Senator Copeland Carries Minority Fight Against Supreme Court Nominee.

BURKE SPEAKS

Burke Argues "Immortal Rule" Unwise and Dangerous.

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.) raised the Ku Klux Klan issue against Senator Black (D., Ala.) in the Senate today with a statement that he felt "outraged by this proposal to put a Klan sympathizer" on the supreme court. Opening the debate before crowded Senate galleries on the nomination of Black to the supreme court, Copeland said the nomination should be rejected "if the Klan relationship is accepted as true, but that if there was doubt about it in senatorial minds it should be sent back to committee for an investigation."

When Copeland concluded, after speaking for an hour and a half without a single interruption, Senator Burke (D., Neb.) arose and carried on the attack.

Criticizing the precedent for quick Senate confirmation of a nomination of a Senator, Burke said that "immortal rule" was "unwise and dangerous." He urged special caution in confirmation of nomination of senators.

He asserted that Black did not possess an "impartial mind" and questioned whether he was "able to administer even-handed justice to all who come before him, regardless of religion or race."

Black himself was absent from his usual seat in the center of the Democratic side of the chamber as the bitter attack went forward.

A small group of Republicans and "old line" Democrats facing almost certain defeat were lined up in the fight against Black.

They claimed only 20 votes. The 13 to 4 favorable vote yesterday by the Judiciary Committee, they said broke the opposition coalition.

Their hope of delaying confirmation rested with Copeland, whose speech bringing in the Ku Klux Klan issue dealt with a subject previously discussed guardedly in Senate cloakrooms.

Copeland, just back from New York, where he conferred on his majority candidacy, took the floor at the outset of today's session which Senate leaders called an hour earlier than usual in an effort to confirm the Black nomination today.

Discussing the nomination in the light of what he called "the Klan relations" of Black, Copeland said, "I have no doubt of what my action should be."

"Other senators will be governed, as they should be, by their convictions," he continued, reading a prepared speech, "but there rests upon us a responsibility, in importance second only to the decision we made in the court-packing scheme."

"Unless the President relieves us from that responsibility by withdrawing the designation, it is our manifest duty to know the whole truth before we act."

He said the founders of the government "sought to make certain that the fundamental rights of American citizens would be protected and not by tyrannical officials, intolerant majorities, or narrow-minded judges."

"Throughout its history," he added, "the Supreme Court has dependently and fearlessly discharged this duty."

"The court's aloofness from partisan politics, bigotry and popular clamor has heretofore been considered its crowning virtue—a virtue essential to the impartial interpretation and application of constitutional restrictions."

Reviewing decisions by the supreme court upholding the bill of rights, Copeland said "neither the President nor the members of Congress can create a precedent by creating the character, attitude of mind, and past record of a man who has been named to the group that determines the destinies of a people presently free."

He said America was free because it was "guarded by the supreme court," and asked "what will happen if a half-dozen men of the mental bias of this nominee should be seated on the bench?"

"Is it likely that the remodeled court would deal tolerantly and generously with religious and racial questions, as the court has done in the past?" he asked.

Surprise Twist.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 17 (AP)—The Webster murder inquiry took a surprise twist today when Attorney General John J. Hartigan entered the inquiry officially for the first time and visited the house at 65 Melrose street where the obstetrician was slain July 16. Hartigan went to the house, from which Mrs. George W. Webster, the widow, has moved, at the request of Assistant Attorney General John E. Nolan, his representative at the inquest sessions. Dr. Webster was shot down with a .45 calibre automatic pistol.

New $75,000 Post Office At New Paltz, Rhinebeck

The village of New Paltz is on the authorized list for a new post office building to be erected at an estimated cost of $75,000, according to plans for construction of public buildings as announced by the Treasury and Post Office Departments. Also on the list which the Treasury and Post Office Departments have prepared of projects for immediate construction is a post office building at Rhinebeck to cost a similar amount.

Money for the projects is to be provided in the third deficiency appropriation bill, which includes a 28 million dollar item for public buildings throughout the country. Selection of the projects for immediate construction will be made as soon as Congress completes action on the deficiency bill.

Troopers Solve Extortion Plot On Woman's Call

The New York State Police arrested three men and expect to take another into custody to bring to a conclusion the smashing of an extortion plot and counterfeit money ring which was revealed to them by a telephone call from Mrs. Della Williams of New Baltimore, complaining about some men who were attempting to obtain money from her "for some reason or other."

The first inkling received by the State Police that something was amiss in the upriver section, came on August 11 when Trooper Larsen of Ravena received a call from Mrs. Della Williams to the effect that she had received a telephone call from some men in Albany, who said they were coming to her house to obtain some money from her.

Upon investigation, Trooper Larsen found that these unidentified men had been disturbing Mrs. Williams for some time, trying to obtain $500 from her for the alleged purpose of furnishing bail money for a friend of the woman's who was reputed to be lodged in a Schenectady jail. This story proved to be fictitious.

First Man Captured

Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, a man, later found to be James Ramsey, alias James Ramsden, called at the New Baltimore house for the purpose of obtaining a package which Mrs. Williams was supposed to have ready for him to take to Schenectady. Trooper Larsen also called and grabbed Ramsey. A man who was waiting outside in an automobile, drove away when he saw the state policeman.

Ramsey was brought to the Catskill post of the State Police where he was questioned by Troopers Knight and Buckley of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the State Police and also by Corporal Reynolds and Trooper Larsen of the Ravena post.

Ramsey claimed that on the afternoon of August 11, a man named Starr asked him in Schenectady and asked him to make some money. He replied that he would, so the man told him to jump in the car and then the pair drove to New Baltimore where Starr asked Ramsey to go in the house and obtain a package which was ready for him. Ramsey entered the house and was apprehended by Trooper Larsen.

Search For Starr

The search began for Starr and he was taken into custody Friday afternoon at Ballston Lake and brought to Catskill for questioning. While the troopers were interrogating him, he endeavored to escape but was caught before he had moved 25 feet.

At first Starr disclaimed any connection with the case, but he finally admitted that he had been the driver of the car which had fled the time Ramsey had been captured. More grilling by the troopers brought forth the confession that Starr and a man named Thomas Perdue, who was supposed to have been the person for whom bail was sought in the Schenectady jail, had schemed to obtain the money from Mrs. Williams so that they could buy counterfeit money.

Both Starr and Ramsey were locked in the Catskill jail and Troopers Knight and Buckley left for Schenectady to locate Perdue. The troopers arrived in the upstate city early Saturday morning but found that Perdue had left. Four troopers, Knight, Buckley, McDowell and Hanchet, began a search for the missing man and located him Sunday morning. Perdue was brought to the Catskill jail and lodged there on a charge of extortion.

According to Trooper Larsen, the brains of the extortion plot is still at large but his identity is known and his apprehension is expected to be only a matter of time.

"Solidarity Forever"

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Six bus loads of New York Works Progress Administration workers, singing "solidarity forever," came here today to demand that Congress enact the Schwellenbach-Alten relief solution. (The resolution provides that the WPA shall not lay off any worker "who can not find employment in private industry at wages no less than the prevailing rate of wages for work for which he or she is reasonably fitted.") David L. Alti, president of the Workers' Alliance, said that the New Yorkers were the advance guard of 3,000 to 4,000 WPA workers who would arrive before Monday.

Woman Sent Back To Brooklyn After Shoplifting Probe

Monday afternoon the local police department had a complaint that there had been some shoplifting going on in the city and as a result Miss Helen Finnigan, alias Carey, of Brooklyn, was questioned but no charge was preferred and she was later allowed to return to her boarding house in the town of Hurley.

The first incident of the day, however, was not the last so far as Miss Finnigan was concerned. Sheriff Molyneux was later called into the picture and as a result of an interview with the young lady, following a check-up with a police lieutenant in New York, Miss Finnigan and her small daughter, Dorothy Barber Finnigan, were placed aboard the 2 o'clock West Shore train this morning and shipped back to Brooklyn.

Although the young woman told several stories and gave the local officers several names it appears she arrived in Kingston by some means on Friday last and hired a local taxi driver to drive her to the Schofman Farm at Hurley.

Monday Mrs. Schofman brought the young boarder to Kingston and the visit to police headquarters followed. On the return to the boarding house the proprietress of the boarding house became a bit uneasy over the situation and called Sheriff Molyneux and asked him to see that the woman left the premises. They said they did not desire her presence there.

Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg and Night Jailer Lyman Ellsworth found that had rather unusual assignment when they endeavored to ascertain the young woman's name and past history. Unable to get any satisfaction from the young woman who claimed her name was Miss Helen Carey, of 572 Pacific street, Brooklyn, they finally got in touch with the New York police and fortunately contacted a lieutenant who said he knew the woman. He told the local officers the woman was well known to the Brooklyn police and was now on parole from an institution.

After inquiry at the New York police department they found the young woman a bit more willing to talk and give information but she told several stories. New York informed the local officers that the woman was Helen Finnigan, of 477 Baltic street, Brooklyn, that the child belonged to her and that last they knew she was unmarried. At present she is on parole and reports to Mrs. Lynch, parole officer of Brooklyn.

When the proprietress of the boarding house, where she had been staying, stated they did not desire her presence any longer on their premises, Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg had the young woman and her child placed on the 2 o'clock train bound back to the city.

During the interview the young woman gave the officers several names and addresses and later said her real name was Finnigan.

AL SMITH, JR., MAY FACE CONTEMPT CHARGES.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—A threat of punishment for contempt of court was held over Alfred E. Smith, Jr., by Justice Abram Zoller today unless Smith pays $1,200 back alimony to his wife, Mrs. Bertha Gott Smith.

Mrs. Smith asserted yesterday through her attorney that the son of New York's former governor has paid none of the $200 a month alimony granted her by Justice James Cross last January when he signed a separation decree.

Referring the case to Justice Cross at Rome, Zoller said if Justice Cross was unable to hear the case Saturday, August 28, he would hear it himself.

An order will be drawn punishing Smith for contempt, he added, if the money is not paid.

Smith's counsel, Nathan Blitman, said his client is an officer in the National Guard at Camp Smith, Peekskill, and was unable to appear in court.

Confesses Attacking Girl

Owego, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—Sergeant Henry J. Mitter of the state police announced today that Alfred William Bishop, 29, Ithaca painter, had confessed attacking an eight-year-old Willseyville girl while she was enroute to church last Sunday. The officials said Bishop was charged with carnal abuse and lodged in the Tioga County jail here.

Roosevelt Considers Neutrality Action

Ban Likely

Roosevelt Consults Monday with High U. S. Officials on Sino-Jap Crisis.

TOKYO'S ACTION

Extraordinary Session of Japanese Parliament September 3.

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt has been considering two possible steps, informed persons said today, in connection with the undeclared war between China and Japan.

Rushing reinforcements to China to protect Americans.

Invocation of the neutrality act against both China and Japan.

Mr. Roosevelt consulted yesterday with Secretary Hull, General Meade Craig, army chief of staff, Rear Admiral James O. Richardson, acting chief of naval operations, and Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the State Department's Far Eastern division.

Although none would comment, it became known later some government officials have contended a complete evacuation of Americans from China would require additional protection.

They were reported to have expressed the opinion privately that available troops could not meet the situation because of the number of persons to be moved and the time required.

(There are about 4,000 Americans in Shanghai. The marine strength is about 1,150, although several thousand other soldiers and sailors are in the trouble zone.)

The neutrality law which President Roosevelt might put into effect was enacted April 29 during Spain's civil war. It stipulates that "whenever the President shall find that there exists a state of war between the nations, he shall proclaim such fact."

That action would place an automatic embargo against shipments of arms, munitions and "implements of war" from this country to China or Japan and would prohibit travel by United States citizens on ships of those nations.

Extraordinary Session

Tokyo, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Japanese cabinet decided today to ask for an extraordinary session of Parliament September 3 to consider placing Japan's economic structure on a wartime basis, make appropriations and enact kindred measures for prosecution of the undeclared war with China.

The proposed five-day session, bringing the diet together a third time within 10 months, would establish a parliamentary precedent.

The cabinet's request will be tendered to Emperor Hirohito, who would summon Japan's lawmakers.

From Shanghai came a Domei (Japanese) news agency report that Japanese authorities had decided on evacuation of all Japanese women and children with the greatest possible speed.

All Japanese ships in the vicinity were to participate in removal of the refugees, the agency said, and it was expected 15,000 would be taken out before the end of the week. There are some 30,000 Japanese in Shanghai, including many who have flocked to the city from the countryside.

Will Omit Shanghai

Trans-Pacific ocean liners which have been stopping at Shanghai hereafter will omit the call at that port and go directly to Hongkong from Kobe, Japan, it was announced here.

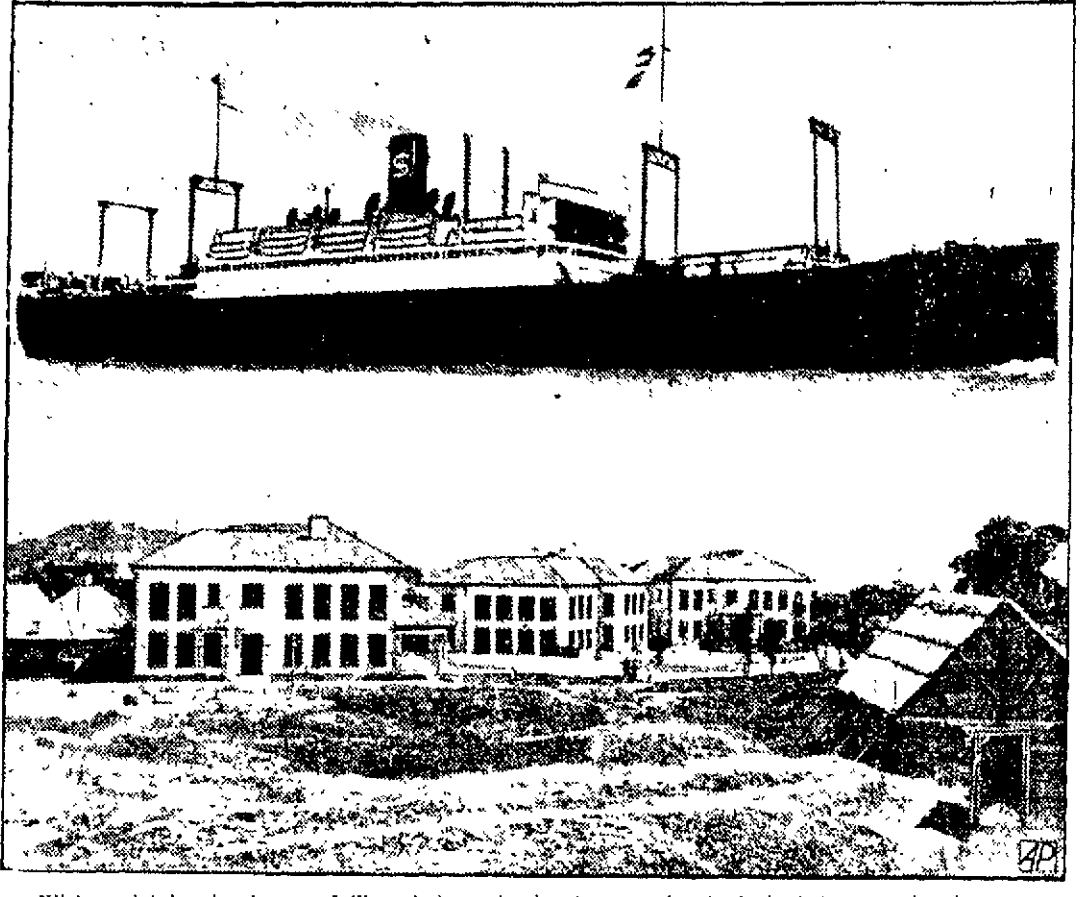

The cabinet heard a report from Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, minister of marine, that 87 Chinese war planes had been shot down or wrecked by bombs in hangars at Shanghai since the fighting began there last Friday. Seventeen hangars were destroyed, he said.

The foreign office spokesman said that the Japanese consul general at Shanghai, Sumasa Okamoto, had forwarded reports that a mutiny had broken out at Nanking among the personal troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese premier and army commander.

The spokesman said Okamoto had reported the mutiny at the Chinese capital purely as a rumor which he was unable to confirm. The newspaper Asahi reported, however, that the rumor came from "a certain foreign power" and other sources stated that information from British circles indicated there was a disturbance among the generalissimo's personal troops.

Asahi declared it was believed

Education Board Negotiates with C.B.O'Reilly Corp.

Following a meeting with members of the C. B. O'Reilly Corp., owners of the land at the rear of the present high school which the board of education desires to purchase for a site for the new central eighth grade school, and at which no agreement could be arrived at as to value, the board of education met in executive session Monday evening at which time the members of the building committee, which had met the representatives of the owners, reported to the full board. As a result of the session another meeting is scheduled to be held today with the owners of the C. B. O'Reilly Corp. and negotiations resumed.

At a recent meeting the building committee was authorized to enter into negotiations with the owners of the land but when that committee was unable to reach any satisfactory terms with the corporation the building committee members deemed it best to meet with the full board and further discuss the matter before further negotiations were entered into.

The board of education also authorized the building committee to enter into negotiations with the directors of the Kingston Fair Grounds, Inc., for the purchase of a plot of ground of approximately 12 acres at the head of North Front street and adjoining Forsyth Park, where the board plans to have a stadium erected for athletic purposes. The stadium is to be submitted as a WPA project.

A majority of the shares of stock voting at a recent meeting of the corporation voted to sell the property for the sum of $19,000 to the board.

EDEN RETURNS FOR EMERGENCY CONFERENCE

London, Aug. 17 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden broke his vacation because of the gravity of hostilities in Shanghai today and returned to London for an emergency conference with some of his ministers.

Authoritative quarters said the meeting was a "special council" but expressed belief that no decision would be taken altering Britain's fundamental policy.

The British foreign office has been in constant touch with the United States and France over the undeclared war between Japan and China.

Treasury Receipts.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $865,553,756.34; expenditures, $970,021,023.82, including $280,410,687.29 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $284,437,267.59; gross debt, $36,581,275,289.51, an increase of $1,501,263.22 over the previous day; gold assets, $12,592,630,356.72, including $1,278,203,151.18 of inactive gold.

"Ain't it Wonderful?" Harlem God Disgusted, Threatens to Evaporate

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—There was little publication in Harlem's "No. 1 Heaven" today.

Less than a ton of roast chicken was consumed; the shouts of "Peace, it's wonderful!" and "Thank you, Father" could scarcely be heard a block away; the stamping of feet in unison was reduced to a rumble no louder than a passing subway train.

For Father Divine, the shiny-pated, negro cult leader, has threatened to "outmiracle" himself.

"Father's disgusted," said his attorney, Arthur A. Madison. "He has just about decided to evaporate for 1900 years."

Attorney William W. Lesselbaum hurried into State Supreme Court, and on the ground that a threatened disappearance for 1900 years might further delay disposition of legal proceedings against Father Divine, asked for the immediate posting of a $25,000 bond, or appointment of a receiver for all of the Divine "Heavens."

Lesselbaum is counsel for Mrs. Virginia Brown, negro ex-"Angel," who wants back $4,000 she says she gave Divine in exchange for a promise of everlasting life. The attorney told Justice Lloyd Church he believes a revolt of the Angels' in Father Divine's "Heavens" is in progress.

Justice Church will hear further argument tomorrow.

Stadium Project Submitted; What Plan Calls For

Although a project for the erection of a modern stadium in Kingston has been submitted to the WPA, the project has not yet been approved. That fact was made plain today by City Engineer James Norton who drew the plans and specifications for the proposed project. The city engineering department has been working on the project for some time.

The stadium as proposed will have a seating capacity of 2,100. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete with brick walls, and will be 210 feet long and 45 feet in width.

The plans call for the building of a football field and a quarter mile running track, together with a baseball diamond.

The entire area of 12 1/2 acres of the Fair Ground property, which the education board has planned to purchase will be fenced with a high cyclone fence and the playing area will be enclosed with a wooden fence.

The plan calls for under drains, a water line, sewer, grading and parking spaces for cars, entrance and exit roads.

It is understood that the plan had not been approved on the ground that a suitable location had not been acquired by the city. With the city obtaining the Fair Ground property it is now believed that the project will be approved by the WPA and that the stadium will be built as a work relief project.

TOUCH ASTOR'S CASH?

NO, SIR, SAYS F. O. FRENCH

Providence, R. I., Aug. 17 (AP)—Francis O. French, one-time taxi-driving father-in-law of John Jacob Astor 3rd, was embarked today on a new literary venture—a book to be called "On the Cuff."

It will be the story of a man "facing bankruptcy and the problem of whether to take the easy way out," explained the father of Ellen Tuck French Astor. French filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in federal court last week. Accept a little help from his wealthy son-in-law? No, sir!

"I'm well and strong and I'm not too old yet. I don't intend to injure my principles by taking things from anybody."

The book, with which French says he will "write myself out of my financial difficulties," will be his second literary effort. The first was an autobiography.

Dissatisfied Democrats

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Dissatisfied Democrats tampered with the program of House leaders today by attempting to salvage the controversial Wage-Hour bill and appropriate funds for a farm tenancy program. The insurrections raised possible barriers to adjournment by Saturday night, but party chieftains minimized their importance. They countered by deciding to hold the House in session today until it has passed the final appropriation bill of the session—with or without the farm tenancy funds.

Many Killed

Shell Splinters Spray City and Great Guns Spew Terror After Nightfall.

WARSHIPS JOIN

More Than 2,000 Women and Children Rush to Safety.

Shanghai, Aug. 17 (AP)—Shell splinters sprayed far-flung home areas with death by day and great guns roared out terror tonight for the Chinese-Japanese battlefield of Shanghai.

One hundred thousand men with guns and bombs fought on to a goal none could foresee.

Fires raged the city.

Unconfirmed reports said Chinese troops had pressed hard on Japanese positions along the lines northeast of Shanghai facing the Whangpoo river beyond the International Settlement. In some places they were believed to have penetrated Japanese advance positions.

Darkness also disclosed three huge fires started by Chinese bombs and shells within Japanese lines.

One raged in Chong, across Szechwan creek from the International Settlement. The other two roared skyward uncontrolled in the null district northeast of Shanghai.

International Settlement fire fighters within a half mile of the creek, leaving the Chong area uncontrolled, to protect the settlement from the advancing flames.

Japanese troops boomed after dark in a renewal of the duel which earlier today saw shell fragments into the French concession, where most Americans in Shanghai live.

Concession police were unable to learn the number of dead or injured, but estimated 50 persons, all Chinese, were struck by shrapnel or shell splinters.

Business utterly collapsed.

More than 2,000 American and French women and children fled from Shanghai. They played hide-and-seek with death under the Whangpoo river to reach waiting liners under the blazing guns of the Japanese fleet.

Sun's found "French Town" ready for another dark night of siege. Foreigners and Chinese alike feared a repetition of last night's terrible battle over Pootung, industrial area across the Whangpoo river from the concession.

Warships Join Battle

At dusk, guns of Japanese warships in the river began a terrific bombardment. The direction of the shells could not be ascertained.

There were no estimates of casualties in outlying areas, but it was believed many were added to the thousands already killed and wounded in the five-day battle.

Chinese-Japanese air duels shook the city until early in the afternoon, spraying hot steel throughout the French concession.

Here struggling business crumbled before the gravest emergency in Shanghai's history. Stores were looted and barred with only a few hand-carrying supplies from a slit in the door or a carefully opened window.

In the International Settlement, the empty Broadway Mansions, Apartment Hotel, and the Astor House Hotel began to bar their doors.

However, before it could close, the Japanese military quartered 1,500 Japanese refugees in the Astor House, virtually ejecting the management and taking over the property.

The manager said he had removed the hotel records and left. Many foreign households were virtually without food.

The first bombardment today came when Japanese warships sprayed the western edge of the foreign areas with shell fragments as they sought to shell a Chinese pursuit plane.

Later, 12 Japanese bombers launched a powerful reprisal raid against the Chinese Chapel and Kiangnan areas to the north and the Chinese lines. The bombardment centered about the commercial press building near the northern edge of the International Settlement.

Sheltering Concentrations

The building, which suffered heavily in 1932 warfare, was reported sheltering concentrations of Chinese artillery batteries. The Chinese started fires which raged over an area of several square miles.

China's own artillery and bomb attack was aimed at the Japanese positions in the Hongkew district of the International Settlement and at Japanese warships in the stream.

Areas around both the Japanese

Cuba was discovered October 27, 1492, by Christopher Columbus in the course of his first voyage.

The modernized automobile trailer has made its triumphant entry into Sweden. Many foreign makes are for sale.

Aw, They Won't Bite— If You Treat 'Em Right

By The AP Feature Service
Orange, Calif. — Rattlesnakes, gila monsters, tarantulas and the like are just so many pets to the Puchert family. They have a back yard full of venomous things. Their pets are deadly but not dangerous, Otto Puchert, WPA lecturer, paradoxically explains. Puchert, who put the venom selling business on a commercial basis and then quit when the bottom dropped out of the rattlesnake poison market, willingly demonstrates his point.

A Gentle Rattler
He stretches himself on the lawn for a little "snuggling" party with Lethal, a veteran diamond back that had buzzed in threatening fashion when he was removed from the cage.

Lethal squirms across his master's chest, all idea of striking gone.

"Rattlesnakes," Puchert says, "need only a little understanding to be handled safely. They won't bite unless they get excited."

How To Handle Spiders

There's a catch in handling deadly spiders, too.

"Want to prove with the tarantula?" he asked his small daughter, Betty Rose. She does.

So Otto places the sturdy, silken spider on her cheek.

Nothing happens.

"It takes a relatively moist skin surface to allow the tarantula to inject its poison," he explains.

NICE PET
Most people run from tarantulas, but Betty Rose Puchert isn't afraid. She even lets 'em crawl on her cheek.

Mythical Estate Swindle Broken by P. O. Inspectors

Postmaster General James A. Farley announced last night that another gigantic swindle carried on through use of the United States mails, which netted its operators approximately one million dollars and numbered among its victims individuals in every state of the union, Canada, Mexico and Cuba, has been stamped out. It was also pointed out that 24 members of various groups engaged in this fraud against the public have been brought to trial and convicted.

This latest swindle to receive the attention of postal inspectors involved the promotion of the mythical "Baker" or "Becker" estates in the state of Pennsylvania, particularly in the city and county of Philadelphia. The promoters of this racket represented to their victims that they had indisputable proof of the existence of these estates, which included properties in the city of Philadelphia, worth approximately $150 million dollars. In addition, they claimed that the estate of Benjamin Franklin himself, as well as the office and the United States mint in Philadelphia were included by these promoters as being "Baker" property. Broad Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the abutments on the Philadelphia side of the Delaware river bridge were, likewise, given as part of the "Baker" estate. Thus, to make the promotion more attractive to the intended victims, there would be added to the Baker estate eleven thousand acres of valuable coal, lead and zinc lands throughout the state of Pennsylvania.

A so-called will, dated December 27, 1839, and claimed to have been executed by one Jacob Baker, was used by the promoters of this swindle to obtain money from their victims. The will purported to dispose of the valuable property mentioned in the city of Philadelphia and the mineral lands throughout state to so-called heirs of Baker. The scheme of some of the groups carrying on the racket was to solicit money through the mails and otherwise for the pretended purpose of procuring the alleged will. If the person solicited was not a Baker or Becker descendant, then he was told a share in the mythical estate. Other groups solicited "investments" at 10 or 20 dollars a share, in addition to "memberships" with monthly dues.

Inspectors assigned to this work thought it very unusual that an authentic will to such valuable property should remain unprocured for almost 100 years. Through court proceedings the alleged will was obtained. Inspectors caused the paper and the writing thereon to be analyzed by a chemical engineer and handwriting expert. It was discovered that the paper on which the will was written was not manufactured until about 1880, over 50 years after its date. The paper had been artificially aged. The signatures of the witnesses to the will had been forged, it was discovered.

As the will in question and representations of the promoter, called for property throughout Pennsylvania as part of the alleged inheritance, it became necessary for the inspectors to trace in and out of the name of "Baker" or "Becker" and various companies in which they were interested every piece of real estate in 27 counties of Pennsylvania from 1682 to the present time. Over 400 days were consumed in this work. The search disclosed that none of the property called for in the alleged will was owned by a Jacob Baker or any other Baker at the time it was purported to have been executed. It was further ascertained that there is no vast unsettled and undistributed Baker of Becker estate anywhere in the state of Pennsylvania.

During the trials of the promoters of this swindle, inspectors produced thousands of letters containing false representations and promises mailed by them to their victims. It was claimed that Jacob Baker was a colonel or captain in the Revolutionary War and that in return for his military services he was given valuable land grants. Inspectors produced proof from the war and navy departments that there never was a Jacob Baker from Pennsylvania, who served as a commissioned officer in the army or navy during the Revolution. Furthermore, no land grants were made by the United States government to any Captain, Colonel or other Baker in Pennsylvania on account of such alleged service.

Finally, relief was requested from the post office department. The matter was placed in the hands of the inspectors of the department who exploded the myth and secured evidence resulting in the conviction of 24 out of 25 swindlers who were brought to trial.

There is no Baker estate and there never had been such an estate that could possibly be the subject of such schemes. Something that started as a rumor grew into a gigantic fraud. Thousands of people were deceived into contributing their time and money for many years without any return or possibility of reward.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE PLACES 161 IN ULSER

City Is Building Permanent Streets at 45c Square Yard

The Board of Public Works has completed the construction of Prospect street, and is now working on a new pavement in Abbey street. Other streets on which it is planned to construct permanent pavements are Van Buren street, Bruyn avenue and Sycamore street.

Superintendent David Conway said that the streets that are being resurfaced or retrograded must have reasonably good foundations with not too high a crown in the center of the street. By this re-treading method it is possible to reconstruct a permanent pavement at a cost of 45 cents per square yard.

This method that was used on Prospect street, where a new pavement 2,250 feet in length was laid, calls for a street that is practically level with no humps in the center. The street is then covered with washed No. 2 stone which is purchased by the bargeload, and spread half the width of the street and hot asphalt, which is prepared right on the ground is applied being sprayed on the stones with the pressure distributor purchased by the city.

Then the street is rolled and another foundation of No. 1 washed stone mixed with hot asphalt is laid and rolled.

When the entire process is completed and the new pavement rolled a permanent pavement has been completed that will stand up under the heavy traffic of trucks and automobiles.

This modern and low cost method of building streets could not be used in earlier years as the city owned no grading machine until one was purchased early during the Heiselman administration.

By this method of building streets local labor is employed and the only materials the city has to purchase are the asphalt and the washed stone used in the construction work.

Superintendent Conway today had a force of eight laborers at work on Abbey street under the direction of a foreman. He stated that in addition to the streets already designated for reconstruction it was planned to build pavements in other streets in the city.

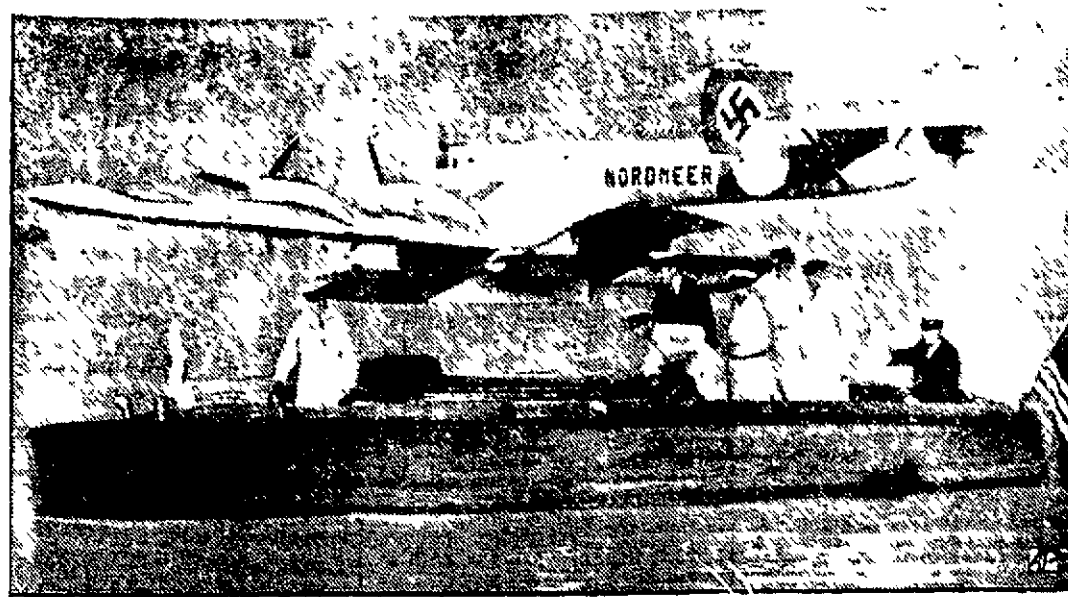

With the use of the equipment which the city now owns it is possible to rebuild streets at low cost that will stand up under heavy traffic.

Nazi Funding

Berlin, Aug. 17 (AP)—The government announced a new offering of 700,000,000 marks (about $280,500,000) today in 15-year four and a half per cent treasury bonds for funding operations. The issue conformed with Germany's established policy of such periodic reductions of its internal debt which now stands at 2,485,000,000 marks (about $990,000,000).

Out of each dollar of operating revenues in 1936, Class I railroads paid 42.9 cents to labor.

NAZI SURVEY PLANE SPANS ATLANTIC

Making a survey flight across the southern route, the Nordmeer, a German plane, after it had landed at Port Washington, N. Y. following a leisurely hop from Europe. Regular Atlantic air service over the route is expected to be established by both Germany and the United States next year. In the boat in foreground are the German crewmen and airport officials. Extreme flight in dark uniform is Commander Joachim Blankenburg of the Nordmeer.

Dyer Case May Close

Los Angeles, Aug. 17 (AP)—Deputy District Attorney William E. Simpson said today he expected to bring the state's case against Albert Dyer, accused triple child slayer, to a close before tonight. District Attorney Burton Blitts read a confession he said Dyer made that he killed and ravished Melba and Madeline Everett and Jeanette Stephens.

LOTS OF WATER

One of the curious little after-thoughts concerned with the sailing race for the America's cup relates to the calm assurance of a good many of the commentators that almost nobody in America knew anything about sailing. They seemed to feel that it was hardly worth while to explain about Genoa jibs and gybing around pylons when practically no one in the country could possibly know what they were talking about.

One good look at the map of the United States ought to dispel that illusion. There are thousands of miles of coast line, with real sailing ships still going out on business from every good harbor. In every little bay and inlet kids are sailing boats. Cats and sloops and ketch-ripped yawls dot all the summer blue. There are hundreds of rivers on which sails zig-zag ceaselessly from spring to fall. The inland lakes are without number.
 On almost every one of them where there isn't a conventional sailboat there is a dory being sailed with an old bedquilt on a clothespole or a skiff being pulled around miraculously by an old umbrella. And all the yacht clubs, which for a time seemed to be going over exclusively to motorboats, now report a return of sail.

It is quite true that there are more folks who know when to throw out the pitcher and why Harvard didn't get the pigskin from Yale at the right second than the ones who know the technical terms of the sailing craft. But there is a lot of water in and around this glorious land. And more seafaring folk who know the difference between a sheet and a yard, between a jib and gybe than the landlubber might believe.

MOVIE-STRUCK PARENTS.

When 34,999 boys are dragged to Hollywood to apply for a single role in a screen production, the disappointed parents of 2,198 of them want to know later why their sons were turned down. Director Norman Taurog knows all the reasons. He listed them for an interviewer the other day.

In one case, which is probably fairly typical of many, size ruled out 40 per cent of the boys right at the start. The lads were too big or too small for the role.
 Others were eliminated quickly because of mishapen or badly spaced teeth, a short upper lip which marred facial expressions, eyes too close together, complexion too dark, hairline too low, poor posture, flat chests, drooping shoulders, defects in speech, protruding ears. Oddly shaped noses and weak chins. By this time the survivors were growing fewer, but a large batch of them lost out because the boys couldn't memorize. Finally, less than 200 were left to take the camera tests. They dropped off fast after that. The camera is a ruthless judge.

Incidentally, the boy who won this particular role had never acted professionally in his life and hadn't been thinking much about a screen career. All of which proves nothing except that mothers shouldn't flock to Hollywood with their offspring unless they can afford the trip as a pleasure jaunt.

SLIPPING STALIN.

Stalin of Russia has been a strong and fearless man, who has done much for his country. But his strength seems to be slipping from him and his courage giving way to fear. Why else the purges? Why the manifest uneasiness about Trotsky and his followers? Why the excitement and imprisonment of committee members who have allowed a few farmers to leave the collective farms and go back to individual farming? Strong and successful governments do not need tyranny and murder to sustain them.

 The will of the people keeps them going.

Russia is large. Its peoples varied, many of them still ignorant of what is really going on in the central government. There is no such easy method as a presidential election or a Gallup poll to find out what they really think.
 But it looks as if Stalin were beginning to be afraid that disapproval of him is rising. It is a little difficult to associate personal fear with so decided a person. But certainly he seems to lack his former sureness that his plans are meeting the needs of the people. Nothing else explains so many recent events so far deemed unexplainable.

ROYAL HEADGEAR

The 24 Americans who bought the top hats from a swindler who assured each one that the hat he was buying had been worn by the erstwhile Prince of Wales, now Duke of Windsor, are doubtless feeling pretty cheap about now, though the hats were dear enough, at an average of $125 apiece. The beguiling person who sold them banked on American snobishness.
 He bought the two dozen second hand top hats, had them cleaned, pressed and the royal seal stitched into them. Nor did he bank in vain. He sold them all.

A doubt assails the reader of the tale, however. Were all these Americans so easily fooled? Some were, no doubt, and snobish to boot. But probably the rest knew more or less what they were doing, but took the hat, each one his buy, as an uproarious joke to play on the folks who were to come in this winter, of an evening, to hear all about the coronation they were not lucky enough to attend.

SEMISTARVATION DIET

One of the gratifying finds in the treatment of ailments or diseases is the knowledge that the use of certain foods or the avoidance of certain foods can relieve the symptoms. Thus in epilepsy avoiding or cutting down on starch foods—bread, potatoes, sugar, and also on liquids—tea, coffee, water, milk, soft and hard drinks, and the eating of more fat foods—butter, cream, egg yolks—will prevent or greatly lessen the severity of the attacks.
 In pernicious anemia the eating of liver, beef, kidney, hog's stomach will prolong life.

As the eating of food raises the blood pressure, treating high blood pressure by putting the patient on a starvation or semi-starvation diet has been tried with considerable success. Dr. J. Hart silver in the British Medical Journal reports the results of treating 48 patients by semi-starvation with the following diet: 8:30 a. m.—one cup of hot water or lemon water and sugar; 11:00 a. m.—liquor from stewed or fruit; 3:30-10 p. m.—orange or grapefruit juice; 1 p. m.— hot vegetable soup (1 pint); 3
 p. m.—hot water or lemonade and grapes; 5 p. m.—orange juice hot or cold; 7:30 p. m.— vegetable soup. No meat extract and no bones should be used in preparing the vegetable soup.
 Use boiled potato water. Choose any or all of the following for flavoring, using a dessertspoonful of the dried vegetables when fresh are not available: turnip and onion, celery, carrots, peas and shells and beans. Boil, thicken and add soaked dried peas or beans. Strain off solids. Salt and pepper to taste.

The patient remains on this diet for six weeks. This diet is repeated each week so long as the symptoms improve. Until the blood pressure approaches normal or there are signs of increasing weakness. When the patient feels weak, tea or even brandy is permissible. If the pangs of hunger become too hard to bear, green vegetables and tomatoes may be given and the soup need not be strained.

Headache and sleeplessness disappear in three days, blood pressure falls rapidly in 90 per cent of the cases, and giddiness and breathlessness are commonly relieved by the end of the first week. The average length of time this diet is given in severe cases is about six to eight weeks. Be-going on this semistarvation diet from time to time the patient may ward off severe symptoms for many years.

Beavers are conservationists, as long as they build their dams in the right places, says the Bureau of Biological Survey. On mountain streams their dams retard runoff and conserve water. But on some farms they are a pest when they obstruct streams or irrigation ditches. The Bureau suggests that beavers out of place be trapped alive anytime from July to October—when the young are weaned and water is low—and transplanted where their dams will do some good.

The 1939 World's Fair in San Francisco will run for 268 days.

 crook. He finds the hotel manager Janet cited as Fanning's close friend. He says Fanning is "a mere acquaintance."

Chapter Two
The Gray Little Man

"HOW long has Fanning been around?" Neill asked.

"I couldn't tell you exactly.
 Some weeks," said Mr. Bromley.
 "What brought him here?"

"He likes the town. Looking for a little place in the Green Spring valley. I've got a place out there, and that's how I got acquainted with him. But it didn't suit him."

"Who introduced him in Baltimore? Who vouches for him?"

"Deed, I don't remember. Fanning is the sort of man you just see around. . . . Do you know anything queer about him?"

"No indeed," said Neill. "I was just trying to find out something about his standing."

"Well, don't ask me.
 'Is he a man you would trust?'
 'I don't trust any man,' said Mr.
 Bromley grinning.

Neill saw that there was nothing to be had here. "Where does Fanning hang out?" he asked.

"No. But I want to find out about him. What are your relations with him?"

"I have no relations with him," Eyster grinned. "He doesn't know me, but I know him."

"Well, tell me," said Neill,
 "what sort of fellow is he?"

"What is your purpose in asking?" said Eyster cautiously.

"I'll tell you," said Neill. "A young fellow that I know has been going around with him, and I suspect Fanning's a bad influence."

Eyster laughed noiselessly. "A bad influence?" he said. "That's putting it mildly. . . . I assume that it is really a young woman you are talking about. Fanning has no use for young men."

Neill let it go at that.

A spasm of hatred convulsed Eyster's gray face. "He's a devil to women," he exclaimed with an odd breathlessness. "A devil! A devil!"

Chapter And Verse

NEILL turned hard inside, thinking of the danger to Janet. At the same time he exulted a little,
 because he had been proved right.
 No harm had come to Janet yet,
 and now he could show her!

Give me chapter and verse," he said eagerly. "Give me some concrete evidence to show, and it will save a woman."

But Eyster only grinned and shook his head. "These are things
 I can't tell a stranger."

"Why did you approach me?"
 Eyster was silent.

Neill felt that he must use caution in dealing with this half-cracked soul. "Where is your home, Mr. Eyster?" he asked in order to get on safer ground.

"I have no home."

"I just go from hotel to hotel."

"Isn't that rather expensive?"

"I have enough money for my needs."

"What's your business?"

"I have no business."

"What brought you to Baltimore?"

"Fanning."

Potato growers of New York state are awaiting their eighth annual summer field day. Thursday,
 August 19, on the farm of Bruce Cottrell of Homer, Cortland county. From 7,000 to 10,000 persons are expected, including 4-H club members who engage in judging contests.

Fruit growers should have picking containers, ladders, lug boxes, packing equipment, and packing ages in readiness well ahead of harvest time. Delays may result in serious losses.

When potato digging starts, examine the tubers as they first fall from the diggers to see if any are being bruised.

When pastures become so scant during the summer that heifers can not get enough feed to keep them growing, additional feed is advisable.

PLATTSBURG NORMAL SCHOOL HOME ECONOMICS COURSE

A four-year course for the preparation of home economics teachers has been approved for the Plattsburg Normal School and will start in September. High school seniors who might be interested in this course should communicate with the State Normal School at Plattsburg, Charles C. Ward, principal.

Because of a shortage of home economics teachers, it has been necessary to import such teachers from other states. This shortage has been created through the establishment of more home economics departments in the schools of New York state. On Tuesday, September 14, at 9 a. m. standard time, examinations will be given at the Normal School to prospective students for enrollment in this new course. A maximum of 50 students will be accepted for this four-year course.

By Associated Press

Gold Rush
Thompson Falls, Mont.—Gold-crazed poultrymen are sifting chicken-feed by the barrel here. Sam Lee found several nuggets of gold in the gizzard of a chicken, but he can't remember where he bought the fowl.

Oskosh, Neb.—Four-year-old Gwyn Hogboom told his father a silver-colored snake that made a noise with its tail was under the kitchen sink. Father investigated and found a creamy-hued rattlesnake.

Saved
Fort Wayne, Ind.—A prospective bridegroom gave Miss Thelma Smith, deputy clerk, a bag full of pennies and asked for a $2 marriage license. "You can't have 139 pennies here," said Miss Smith after a laborious count. "And this isn't a bargain day."

Off the Wagon
New York.—Police found a large quantity of wine in the home of Alexander Reiner, 70. They accused him in court of intending to sell it in violation of state liquor control laws. "I don't sell it, I drink it," Reiner snorted. "Since 1915, I haven't touched a drop of water." Case dismissed.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Aug. 16.—This year's annual Baptist Church fair and supper, held Thursday, took on the aspects of a full fledged fair weather and old home gathering. It was noteworthy of the number of venerable residents of past and present attending. Over 200 people were served with a most savory and abundant supper under supervision of President Nettie Jones, of the Ladies' Aid Society. As the afternoon waned, showers threatened by early sprinkles were noted as the heavy storm clouds boomed and drenched their way off to the north. Then as twilight fell, a soft romantic half moon hung low amid the broken clouds over South Mountain the gaily proceeded merrily on. The Phoenix Silver Cornet Band, all in fine fettle after their previous day's success at the Millbrook picnic, entertained till late in the evening. A large newly installed flood light on the corner of the church turned night into day. Inside the church auditorium various booths offered quilts and fancy articles to a flourishing trade. Kingston and vicinity sent out a prominent delegation. Included among this group were Mrs. Delancey N. Matthews, Miss Bertha Matthews, William Boice, Mrs. E. E. Henry, Mrs. Emma Fetter, Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bibby and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sackler, and others. Ashokan, Shokan, Woodstock, Boscawville, Oliva Bridge and other rural communities were very well represented. Many strangers also were noted. The gross intake was about $255, while the net is expected to equal a best previous record of some years ago of approximately $200.

New York Central To Repair Crossing

For several months Mayor C. J. Heiseleman has been urging the New York Central railroad to repair the Smith avenue crossing, using paving material between the rails, as was done on the Flatbush avenue crossing. Today he received a letter from Superintendent Wright of the railroad that the Smith avenue crossing would be repaired and fixing the date for the work as on or before September 15. Mayor Heiseleman had also urged that the railroad repair the Broadway crossing, giving it similar treatment as the Flatbush avenue crossing, and which would eliminate the present wooden planking, but Superintendent Wright wrote that nothing would be done with the Broadway crossing until the question of the Broadway elimination was disposed of.

River Parkway Is Sought for West Bank of Hudson

The planning boards of Rockland and Orange counties have taken definite steps to secure the development of a parkway for express traffic, beginning at the Jersey side of the George Washington Bridge and running along the west bank of the Hudson river as far as Newburgh and possibly extending farther north.

The proposal was advanced by Charles Evans, chairman of the Orange county planning board, at a dinner given by the Rockland county real estate brokers. Economic obstacles to the establishment of such an express system were discussed for the purpose of discovering whether or not a plan was practical to make the counties of Rockland and Orange in New York state and Bergen county in the state of New Jersey, into residential areas for New York commuters.

The principal speaker at the meeting was Glen S. Reeves, development engineer for the Port of New York Authority, who commented on the possibility of a frequent interval high speed electrified transportation on the river. In conjunction with this plan he also broached the idea of development of New York's subway system to permit door to door service for persons living west of the Hudson river, and pointed out that such a system must be able to transport 350,000 people across the Hudson river—40 per cent within one hour.

Concerted action was the keynote of the meeting as the two counties decided to work for the accomplishment of a river parkway system similar to the Bronx River Parkway for passenger traffic on the east bank of the Hudson.

Lloyd's Boost War Risk Rates

London, Aug. 17 (AP)—Lloyd's underwriters boosted war risk rates today on shipments to the Far East as a result of the undeclared war between Japan and China.

The rate for shipments to Shanghai and Yangtze river ports went from one quarter per cent to three per cent on goods for immediate discharge, but 10 per cent if the goods leave warehouses 15 days after discharge.

Rates also were increased on shipments north and south of Shanghai, including Dairen and Manchoukuo ports.

Woman's Version Of China Terror And Sudden Death

By Elizabeth Lantry Harris.
(Wife of The Associated Press correspondent in Shanghai.)

Shanghai, Aug. 17 (AP)—This once-gay metropolis of the Orient is a kaleidoscope of terror and ruin today, for the Sino-Japanese conflict rages on in a thunder of cannonading.

The frenzied activity of evacuating more than two thousand American and British women and children engulfs the bund. Luggage-laden coolies stream along the world-famous thoroughfare, calling excitedly as they race to keep up with the owners of the baggage.

Taxis push their way in and out of the crowd. The harsh sound of their horns mingles with the chatter of rifle and machine-gun fire and the roar of artillery. Hordes of ragged Chinese refugees jam into the avenue to gaze in curiosity at the spectacle.

Splintered fragments of anti-aircraft shells are falling over the foreign area, endangering everyone.

From the terror and confusion of the water front the women and children enter tenders to board liners which will carry them out to sea and safety. But the gauntlet of peril they must run before reaching the sanctuary of the Dollar Line President Jefferson or the British refugee ship, Rajputana, is clearly visible.

Load after load of them ride in the tenders, tossed on the waters of the Whangpoo river, beneath the very guns of the Japanese fleet. Aircraft of both armies

No Objections to New Tax Law Here

Monday at noon Mayor C. J. Heiseleman held a public hearing on the local law adopted by the Common Council which would impose a 1 per cent tax on the gross receipts of a public utility. The law had been introduced in the council by Alderman Peyer of the Eighth ward on the recommendation of the mayor, and was unanimously approved by the council.

At the hearing Monday no one appeared in opposition to the measure which now becomes Local Law No. 2 of 1937.

Mayor Heiseleman in recommending the adoption of the proposed law estimated that it would add approximately $12,000 to the city's revenues, and said that he proposed to use this additional revenue to increase the street lighting facilities of the city.

Jr. Naval Reserve At Flatbush Point

Camp Alexander at Flatbush Point is having a busy season and is filled with members of the Junior Naval Reserve from Astoria, Woodside, Akron, Admiral Sterling battalion, and the Queens divisional units.

The activities of the camp under the leadership of Paul Canalliza, are varied and numerous. Moving pictures were shown last Saturday evening on the subject of lifesaving and health, and Sunday the boys had tests in swimming and lifesaving. The campfire entertainment is of high order with the camp band furnishing music. Numerous sketches, musical selections, circuses, campers' days, adventure trips, initiations and short stories keep the campers busy. Burial of "Old Man Grouch," circus day, and several other events are scheduled for this week. The members of the camp will return to New York city on their national training ship Liberty, on Labor Day, when the camp closes for the season.

Speedy Lift, Slow Landing Combined In New Air-Taxi

GERMAN STORK
No trouble at all for this plane to get off the ground. It takes off so fast that it seems to stand on its tail.

Kassel, Germany (U.P.)—An air-taxi built to compete with the wind-mill plane in ease of landing and with ordinary airplanes in speed has been developed here.

The Stork, as Gerhard Fieseler calls his plane, takes off so steeply that it seems to stand on its tail. It can trottle down to from 130 to 30 miles an hour in straight flight and land at 24 miles an hour.

Small supplementary wings, projecting slightly beyond the forward surface of the main wing, "trap" the air stream from the propeller and force it to exert a greater lifting power.

In landing tests the Stork has been brought to a halt less than seven yards after its wheels touched ground. In take-off tests it has attained an altitude of 50 feet within 100 yards from a standing start.

I am the dividend producer for your business, the money-making, order-taking, dull times force.
I am the voice of justice, the psalm of service; the motive power of modern business.
I go into the high-ways and by-ways; into the far corners and the niches; selling for you, telling for you upon quality; compelling for you the purse strings of a willing public to open wider the coffers and treasure chests of buying.
I make trade spring from the fertile soil of hesitation; put your wares into the windows of the world; into the minds of millions.
I make income out of outgo; assets of liabilities; gains of waste; safety of insecurity.
I am the winged steed upon which your business can ride to the earth's uttermost distances and shake hands with new trade.

Aunt Emma—Aren't you going to say the blessing, dearie?
Modern Child—This food is coming to you through the courtesy of God Almighty.

Which reminds me of a good play:
"Oh Lord, Keep Me Alive While I Am Still Living!"
A prayer like this is needed. The devout old Scotchman to whom it is ascribed saw a great many people moving around who rightfully belonged to the undertaker. They were dead from the chin up. They had stopped thinking, stopped improving. When you stop improving, you're through.

A young fellow who used to get around the town, a lot suddenly took unto himself a bride. One by one he began passing his old haunts and friends. If questioned, he would stammer and excuse, but finally he admitted that his wife violently objected to his returning to his old bachelor habits.

Friend—Why don't you give her an argument?
Young Fellow (wearily)—I thought of it once, but that was before I caught her carrying a pail up stairs. I've let her alone since.

Life Sets a Fast and Sometimes Grilling Pace
But So Live That You Can Always Look Yourself in the Face

The class in public speaking was to give pantomimes that afternoon. One student got up when called on, went to the platform and stood perfectly still.
Professor (after a minute's wait for something to happen)—Well, what do you represent?
Student—I'm imitating a man going up in an elevator.

READ IT OR NOT—
There's no such a thing as a grammatical error.

Son—Can you give me an explanation of bankruptcy?
Father—Bankruptcy is when you put your money in your pants pocket and let your creditors take your coat.

Bride—Yes, we should have put on the invitations: "No Babies Expected."

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds.

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Hoare is the sailor, home from the sea, and the hunter home from the hill. Or, to put it another way, Robert Young is making a picture on his home lot.

It's an "A" picture, with Joan Crawford. He did one other picture with Joan on the Metro lot, but that was four years ago. This time it looks as if he has "arrived."

The other night a preview audience, which had just seen "I Met Him in Paris," spontaneously applauded when Young stepped on the screen in a supporting role.

Two years ago an exhibitor told me the best way to know to save wear and tear on his seats was to put Robert Young's name on the marquee.

Bob himself, after six years in this upside-down business, is a little wary.

"I've had spur like this before," he says. "This time I hope the real thing, but—do you know the motto of the Palm Springs Yacht Club?"

(It's "You're only as good as your last picture.")

"If you like movies," says Bob, "that's a good one to frame."

He has traveled a great deal, by land and by sea, since he broke into pictures as a juvenile of 24. He crossed the ocean for a couple of English prizes, and by land he has traveled all over Hollywood. Where Metro wasn't using him in "B" pictures he was easily borrow.

"I liked it," he says. "I've had experience I couldn't have had any other way. I figure that in 42 pictures I've had 33 different directors, and learned—I hope—something different from each of them."

On the lot here I had had about 10, no more. Right now I'm working under the only woman director, Dorothy Arzner, and that's another experience."

He has no great theory to explain the long doldrums he experienced professionally, nor to throw light on the sudden change in his fortunes. Unless, for the latter, it's Wesley Ruggles and "I Met Him in Paris." Actors don't really have theories about such things, he says. They may make them up, but most of them go along from day to day, do their job as well as they can, and play golf in the interim, hoping their luck will last.

They don't observe and take stock periodically. And neither does he. Right now, for instance, he's concerned about a vacation. He's had a number of brief ones, but never a vacation he could call his own. He's always had to be within hailing distance of a telephone, so the studio could call him back. That went for his honeymoon, too. And he was called back.

"Drake's Folly" Brought Forth the Great Oil Era

It was the Drake well—"Drake's folly"—drilled in 1859, that really was responsible for the beginning of the great oil era. Advancing prices of rock oil and a growing knowledge of petroleum and its uses in the production of kerosene, paraffin and lubricants, were developing a widespread interest in petroleum in America, and on Oil Creek, Pa., where oil seepages occurred, E. L. Drake, superintendent of the Seneca Oil company property, assembled his drilling equipment. After boring 33 feet, the drill fell into a crevice that made the total depth of the well 69½ feet. The next day, observes a writer in the Washington Star, that well was nearly filled with oil. There ensued the first race for leases and wild speculation in oil properties. By 1865 drilling had begun its march "from Mantoulin Island to Alabama and from Missouri to central New York."

The early years of the Twentieth century were marked by great advances in oil field development, in petroleum technology, in the application of petroleum in the arts, warfare and commerce, and in geologic methods of discovering oil fields. This black gold grew to be the second largest industry in the country, and in production, transportation, refining and marketing, some $12,000,000,000 being invested in the United States. In one year, 1934, Italy produced as much oil as this country produced in half an hour.

Ancient Arizona Church
One of Finest in U. S.

History tells us that once there were twenty missions and mission vistas in Arizona. All save one, the finest of them all, the incomparable mission church of San Xavier del Bac, eight miles south of Tucson, are in ruins. A second, Tumacacori, forty-eight miles south of Tucson, is a national monument, and is being preserved lovingly for posterity by the National Park service, says a correspondent in the Los Angeles Times.

No one knows accurately when the church of San Xavier was built, though the name, Pedro Boyorques, 1797, is carved on one of the sacristal doors. But this may be merely the name of the man who did the carving and the date when he completed his work.

Tradition has it that the church was built by the Gona brothers of Caborca. Credence is lent to this tradition by the fact that the Gona brothers built the church of Purisima Concepcion de Caborca, which so much resembles San Xavier.

But whoever the builders, they constructed an edifice that is incomparably the finest church building within the limits of the United States.

CITIZEN GROUPS AID SYPHILIS CONTROL PROGRAM

Citizen aid to official health authorities to keep the goal of syphilis prevention continuously before the public is described by the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association in a report released today by George J. Nelbach, executive secretary.

With grants for 1937 totaling $21,000 received from the Milk Bank Memorial Fund and the New York Foundation, the State Committee's syphilis education program is conducted in cooperation with the State Department of Health outside the city of New York.

The National Tuberculosis Association has authorized the use of Christmas Seal sale funds for syphilis control activities in this state, enabling 31 county and city tuberculosis associations to take part in the enterprise, an increase of 18 from the 17 enrolled in the program last January 1st.

During the first half of 1937, eleven community syphilis institutes have been held in up-state cities to enlist the active interest and support of civic leaders and organizations. There were 25 sessions with a total attendance of 7,700 individuals at these institutes, held in the following localities: Albany, Auburn, Binghamton, Kingston, Newburgh, Middletown, Schenectady, Troy, Utica and Yonkers.

Mr. Nelbach announced that a design for an outdoor poster panel directed toward the prevention of congenital syphilis had been approved for release this fall in New York State and throughout the nation. He also cited numerous syphilis education services performed by up-state local tuberculosis and health associations and the State Committee.

An airplane would pass over four states, a foreign country and a sea if it would take an airline route to the five corners of Texas. The distance flown would be nearly as far as from Los Angeles to New York.

At The Theatres

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: "Wee Willie Winkle." Rudyard Kipling's saga of the white man's burden in India comes as a glittering presentation to the Broadway with Shirley Temple cast in the starring role.

It's a heroic and moving story of the English conquest of India and the entire show is shrewdly presented and rewritten to Miss Temple's talents. The battle scenes are staged with a spectacular flourish, the settings are elaborate and lavish and romance, pageantry and glory parade through the film with a never ending brilliance. It is far and away the best screen vehicle ever given the little star and a superlative supporting cast includes Victor McLaglen, Michael Whelan, C. Aubrey Smith, Cesar Romero, June Lang and Constance Collier.

A 20th Century Fox presentation under the direction of John Ford. Here is a show which should appeal to everyone.

Kingston: "Love in a Bungalow" and "Roaring Timber." A happy go lucky little romantic comedy with Kent Taylor and Nan Grey opens the double feature bill at the Kingston and a wild and courageous forest story that climaxes in a spectacular fire completes the picture. The latter attraction stars the virile Jack Holt and Bradley in the east include Grace Bradely, Ruth Donnelly and Raymond Hatton.

Orpheum: "The Man Who Could Work Miracles." A weird and entertaining film is to be seen at the Orpheum from the pen of H. G. Wells, the story of a little Englishman who suddenly discovers that he has wonderful powers. Roland Young is cast in the starring role and does a fine job as the miracle worker. "Bulldog Edition" is the other attraction.

15c TO DIE

Harriet Pease (above), 18, Baltimore Y. W. C. A. business school student, barely paused at the entrance to that city's Washington monument to pay a 15-cent admission fee before rushing to the top from where she leaped to death. Seventh niece from the historical shaft, she left a note saying, "This is a legitimate suicide."

Arrest Follows Crash of Cars

Monday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg and Sergeant James Cunningham and Trooper Walter Keefe were called to Stone Ridge where the cars of Oscar Hornbeck, of Stone Ridge, and a car of Bernard Charkosky, of Kingston, had collided at the junction of the main highway and the Atwood road.

Mr. Hornbeck driving a Ford car was proceeding toward Kingston and had stopped near the intersection of the Atwood road to talk to a man. He told the officers that when he concluded his conversation he looked both ways and saw no car coming from either direction and started on his way. He turned left into the Atwood road and at that instant he saw the other car come. He charged the car was traveling at an excessive speed and wrote out the warrant for the arrest of the driver of the car, Frank Charkosky. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Oscar Church, of High Falls, bail in the sum of $25 was posted by the driver and the matter was set down for a hearing on Monday next at 2 o'clock at Grange Hall, Stone Ridge.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Charkosky was coming from the direction of Kingston and had intended to go straight through the village on route 209. He claimed that the other car cut across his path and that his car was pulled to its right into the intersection by the collision. He denied that he had been traveling at a fast rate of speed and said he had not made an effort to turn into the side road to avoid the accident, and struck the Hornbeck car. The Hornbeck car was damaged about the running board and rear door while the left bumper of the Charkosky car was damaged.

Petal in Training Circus Beasts
Training the "cat" animals in a circus is a dangerous proposition. While the elephant is a gentle beast, striving to please, the big cats never get to like the idea of captivity. The lion, though called the "king of beasts" is much easier to train than the tiger. He is lazier and less inclined to be quarrelsome. A tiger can almost always beat him in a fight. Worst of all the "cats" is the black leopard. Whenever you see one of these going through tricks in the circus, you may be sure that its master is an exceedingly clever animal trainer.

TELLS OF FLIGHT THROUGH GUNFIRE

Mrs. Morris J. Harris (above), wife of The Associated Press Chief of Bureau at Shanghai, told of seeing heavy shells of Chinese by Japanese warships, and of shells tearing holes in the deck of a tender on which Americans were being rushed from bloody Shanghai to an American liner. Mrs. Harris returned to Shanghai on the tender.

Woodcliff Riot Brings Arrests on Assault Charges

The riot which occurred at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie, when three state troopers in plainclothes raided an alleged gambling layout, brought about the arrest of two widely known Dutchess county sportsmen, members of the Nimrod Gun Club, and may be the cause of the apprehension of two more who participated in the alleged beating given the troopers.

Michael Lesick, 45, of Poughkeepsie was held on the charge of second degree assault. The charge alleges that he "did take the trooper (Lotto) by the arm and with the assistance of other men did force him to accompany him into a building," knowing Lotto to be a trooper.

Lloyd Alexander, 38, of Woodcliff, reported to be the manager of the Prudential Insurance Company in Peekskill, was charged with second degree assault and inciting a riot. Alexander is charged in the complaint with assaulting Trooper Lotto while knowing him to be a trooper. The inciting a riot charge alleges that he "did direct, advise, encourage, and solicit an assemblage of people to resist peace officers at Woodcliff Park when said officers were engaged in arresting persons for running a gambling game, said gambling being contrary to and in violation of the statutes of this state and did then and there participate in a riot, forcibly preventing the said peace officers from discharging their duties, in violation of Section 2091, paragraph one, of the Penal law."

District Attorney Schwartz served notice yesterday that he intended to give full cooperation to the State Police in an endeavor to wipe out illegal gambling in the county.

CALLS ON F. D. R.

Secretary of War Harry Woodring (above) called, along with other high officials, on President Roosevelt at the White House, lending credence to rumors that the U. S. may rush further military and naval reinforcements to the Shanghai war zone.

U. S. Considers Neutrality Action

that the Nanking revolutionists were composed of those elements of the central army which had been against war with Japan from the beginning of the North China hostilities.

Would Destroy Army

The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported from the seaport of Nagasaki that Maj. Gen. Kumakichi Harada, the new Japanese military attaché to China, asserted that he departed for his post that Japan ought to destroy the Chinese central army in order to maintain peace and order in East Asia.

The liners Nagasaki Maru and Shanghai Maru departed for China with a work battalion of 500 men, a thousand bales of rice and 10,000 bales of charcoal.

Both vessels are making 48-hour return voyages between Nagasaki and Shanghai to rush supplies to the China front and evacuate Japanese refugees.

Japanese press dispatches from North China told of the advance of four divisions against the Japanese positions north of Peiping and south of Tientsin.

Two divisions were said to be moving down from Chahar Province toward Nankow Pass, 30 miles northwest of Peiping, where Chinese regulars have been blocking the advance of a Japanese brigade for more than a week.

Two other divisions were reported advancing northward from Shanlung Province along the Pukow-Tientsin railroad. The newspaper Tsinan reported a concerted drive by the Chinese for the recovery of northern and eastern Hopoh Province.

VARIED CASES BEFORE CULLOTON IN COURT.

Honshy Dawson, a negro of the lower section of the city, who was charged with disorderly conduct on Ann street, was sentenced to five days in the county jail this morning in police court. Constantine Guzik of Abeel street, charged with disorderly conduct on West Strand, pleaded not guilty, and had his hearing set down for Thursday. Peter Sottile of 187 North street was fined $2 for the illegal use of license plates on his car. Henry Welner, 18, of New York, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, had his hearing adjourned to Wednesday. The youth was apparently sick and that was the reason why the police picked him up so that he could receive medical attention at the jail.

Ancient Looking Glasses
Looking glasses of the seventeenth century were sometimes made with frames entirely of glass. Gilded leaves and flowers carved from wood is another indication of an early date. Chippendale mirrors of the Chinese period are said to be the most elaborate ever produced. Those of the rococo period "are so daring and magnificent that few rooms can stand them." With the Adam period a complete change in ornamentation appeared—urns, sphinxes and other devices strictly classical. The circular convex mirror usually with an eagle ornament and candelabra are products of the late Eighteenth century and the early part of the Nineteenth.

Founded Benedictine Order
The Benedictine order was founded by St. Benedict about 529. It was at first intended to be only a philosophy of life, but within its first century the order was formed. The Benedictines, famous for their manufacture of a liqueur, were the saviors of Christian art in western Europe. At St. Ottilien, says the Digest, their vows of industry have taken them from crude handwork to highly mechanized production.

"It's a beautiful world." That's the way Major Barron reacted today to the sight which he said came to him suddenly yesterday.

to end 37 years of blindness. The confused but happy negro said he went to a brief prayer meeting and when he left the room, "a beautiful white world" unfolded before him. "Everything is still white," he said today. "I can't tell one color from another, but it sure is beautiful."

By L. L. STEVENSON

Back to 'B'way: Old vaudevillians are making their return in various forms of the entertainment world. Many are doing bits in the legitimate theater, working as extras out in Hollywood and along the main stem, entertaining at private parties, conventions and meetings of various kinds. In the latter field they have staunch champions in B. A. Rolfe and Joe Cook, whose memberships in lodges and fraternal organizations make them stand out as champions of entertainment committees. At a recent party given by one of the Rolfe neighborhood societies, the following old-timers furnished the program: Sherman Wade, seventy-four-year-old dancer; Harry Brooks, fifty-seven-year-old banjo expert; Allan Wallace, sixty-three-year-old songster; Gertrude DeSylvan, age unannounced, pianist, and young Lillian Ashton, fifty-year-old character singer.

Fate: A young woman driving in Brooklyn the other afternoon was stopped by a carload of cops who in no uncertain terms informed her that she was on the wrong side of the street. The young woman, unaware of that fact, remained mute. The officers of the law, however, went on and on, sometimes taking turns and sometimes working in duets. Running down at last, with a final and most emphatic denunciation, they drove away. With that, the young woman, having heaved a great sigh of relief, was about to drive on, only to be halted by the regular man on the beat. "Never mind 'em, lady," he remarked with a grin. "You wasn't doing nothing. But they've been on the carpet themselves and they just had to bawl somebody out."

Southpaw Right: There is a store on Fifth avenue that displays some of the most beautiful gowns in the city. For show purposes, wax models, whose faces and forms are in keeping with the fine raiment which adorns them, are used. Naturally, the exhibits are the targets of many eyes whenever they are on display. A short time ago, however, the models attracted more attention than usual. There seemed to be something wrong with one of the most attractive. Close inspection revealed why that impression persisted. The beautiful model had two left hands.

Satisfaction: A New Yorker, who by intelligence, diligence and much hard work reached a point where he could retire from business activities, went back to his old home town in Connecticut and built himself a mansion. In the days of his extreme youth, in fact all through his boyhood, he had been looked down on, the general opinion being that his kind was worth probably a dime a dozen. When the house, which topped everything the whole countryside had to offer, was completed, the owner sent out invitations to a party. None were excluded, not even those who had slighted him most in his ragged days. The guests were taken through the house and then served a sumptuous dinner. At the conclusion of the feast, the host arose. "Neighbors," he said, "you have seen my home. You have been well fed. You know that, despite your prophecies, I have made good. Now you can all get out. I'm going to bed. They did and he did."

At Parties: Instead of singing, Carl Ravell sits at the piano and gives imitations of Eddy Duchin, Joe Richman and Vincent Lopez. Don Voorhees leads a symphony orchestra in pantomime. Morton Bowe does sleight-of-hand tricks. Peter Van Steeden takes delight in beating his host at ping-pong or pool. Phil Baker plays classics on his accordion. Martin Freed sits at the piano and composes spur-of-the-moment lyrics about other guests. Johnny Green exhibits tap dancing steps he learned from Fred Astaire. Carlton KaDell burlesques more important screen and radio stars. Charles Martin, writer, plays the violin. Harry VonZell sings baritone.

State Funds in Ulster's Banks

Albany, Aug. 17 (Special).—State funds totalling $80,000 were on deposit in Kingston banks and trust companies on July 31, according to figures released by State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine, in the New York State Bulletin, official publication of the Department of State. Of this amount, $20,000 was in the Rondout National Bank, while the Kingston Trust Company and the National Ulster County Bank, each had $30,000.

The total amount of state funds on deposit throughout the entire state, on July 31, was $66,747,182.53. State funds on deposit in Ulster county banks, in addition to Kingston, are listed as follows: First National Bank, Highland, $10,500; First National Bank, Marlborough, $15,000; First National Bank, Milton, $10,000; Huguenot National Bank, New Paltz, $20,000; First National Bank and Trust Company, Saugerties, $40,000; Saugerties Bank, $40,000; and Walkill National Bank, $40,000.

Walker Gets City Post, Pension Sure

New York, Aug. 17 (AP).—James J. Walker, who resigned under fire in 1932 as mayor of New York, virtually was assured today of a lifetime city pension estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 annually.

The Democratic-controlled transit commission appointed him assistant commission counsel yesterday—just two weeks before a five-year absence from the city payroll would have disqualified him for a pension. His new job pays $12,000 a year.

Commissioner Reuben L. Haskell said the vote to appoint Walker was unanimous.

"There was no politics involved," Reuben said. "He qualified for the job by virtue of his knowledge of transit."

In his new position Walker, who has been living quietly on a Long Island duck farm, will direct the transit commission's activities in eliminating grade-crossings in New York city.

Calf Is Rated Low in Cattle Country

Bisbee, Ariz.—City Magistrate Barney Norton handed down a judicial decree that calves are not legal tender for payment of a fine although Bisbee is in the heart of the cattle country.

A Mexican, charged with being intoxicated, was given a sentence of $10 or 10 days. A few hours later, the prisoner's son arrived in the court room with a calf which he offered for his father's freedom.

"Ten dollars or 10 days means what it says," said the judge. "The prodigal prisoner will return to the fatted calf in nine days."

New Loading Trestle

One of the latest developments along the Rondout creek is the construction of a loading trestle by the Dwyer interests for the Wilbur Sand Company on the dock front opposite the sand bank at Wilbur.

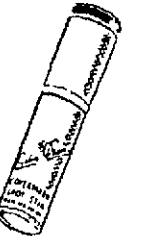

The trestle is approximately 75 feet long and 14 feet wide and is built of heavy timbers and 1-beams. Two 18 inch I-beams, 44 feet long, are anchored securely to a concrete abutment, and extend out over the water so that it is estimated a weight of 14 tons could safely be supported on the extreme end of the trestle.

Construction was commenced on the project about two weeks ago with the pile-driver of Louis

Freeman Photo
Sturgeon placing supports on the dock front and the Island Dock dredge Esopus making the creek deeper in front of the trestle. The derick barge Nan of the Dwyer Lighterage has been engaged on the work, serving as a base of operations for a crew of men.

Last Thursday the first barge, the Victor of New York, tied up under the trestle to load scrap iron.

The construction of this trestle or loading platform affords excellent facilities for the loading of barges in the creek, and the actual work has been carefully done in order to insure a structure that will meet the needs of local boat-loaders.

Britain Rules Her Air Waves, But—

By RADER WINGET

London (AP).—The British Broadcasting corporation, held up as a model of radio reform to the rest of the world, is having trouble reforming itself.

Formed frankly to get away from what the British government believed were evils of the ether, the BBC has been trying ever since to give the people what they ought to have.

'Sick Leaves' Given
Every once in a while the system breaks down, and listeners get something that tickles them pink.

Like the time at Spithead when a commentator forgot he was describing the coronation naval review and started on a rambling disconnected jumble of words the theme of which was "The fleet is all lit up."

But the BBC has done nothing to prevent such things from happening again. The "all lit up" announcer received an indefinite term of "sick leave" and will be off the air when he returns to work.

That same punishment was meted out to the chorus man who shouted "Oh, Mrs. Simpson" one night during a musical broadcast. He explained he intended to shout "Oh, Mrs. Gibson," the catch line of a popular comedian. The BBC accepted his explanation, put him on sick leave, returned him to work and forgot all about it.

On the anniversary of the death of King George V. the BBC featured a recording made the year before when the announcer said something to the effect: "The King's life is drawing peacefully to its close."

Hundreds of hysterical persons called newspaper offices and the BBC thinking the present king was dead.

The same thing happened on a smaller scale when a dramatic presentation re-enacted the death of William IV in 1837 in a program marking the 100th anniversary of the accession of Queen Victoria.

Little World Series Starts Tonight; Old Favorites to Box Friday

Berardis Clash With Home Leaders at the Athletic Field, 6:10

Both Clubs Anxious for Win in First Game of Five for the City Baseball Pennant.

This evening the Little World Series for the City Baseball League pennant opens at the Athletic Field.

Starting time of the contest is 6:10 o'clock, and long before that a crowd of spectators is expected to gather for the diamond war looked forward to as one that should furnish more action than any game this season.

Contestants are the Grunewald Home Leaders, winners of the first half of the league, and the Berardis A. C., championship club of the second half.

Both clubs have large followings which is one basis on which to forecast a record turnout of baseball rooters, and the other is that the nines will be fighting it out for the city pennant.

Charley Diers, manager of the Home Leaders, told a sports writer, "We are out to win, and are going to put everything we have into that first game. A good beginning is half the battle. The Home Leaders count a lot on coping that first of our five games."

Ralph DeCicco, boss of the Berardis, is confident that his collection of diamond talent will come out on top. "Far be it from me to be over-confident about all this pennant winning stuff," he said, "but I think we have one of the best organizations in the league and have every reason to believe we'll come out on top. We are going out strong after that first game test game."

When asked about his starting pitcher, Manager Diers said he would send Toddy Uhl to the mound. "I think we can depend on Toddy to give the Berardis something to ponder over when he starts shooting his fast ones," he said. Leo Komosa, Joe Mislove and Joe Mahar will be in reserve.

Opposing Uhl will be Julius Chiek, ace of the Berardis hurling staff. "We're sending Chiek to the box," DeCicco told writers, "and count on him to set those batters down in rotation."

The full lineups will be as follows: Home Leaders—Toddy Uhl, pitcher; Don Kelly or Al Flanagan, catcher; Joe Dulin, 1b; Charlie Francello or Steve Diddick, 2b; John Davis, 3b; Ed Minahan, 3b; Walt Gadd, Herb Van Dusen, 4b; Ralph DeCicco, 5b; Tommy Berardis and Johnny Berardis, outfielders.

Minnesota University Has Rare Scandinavian Works

Minneapolis. — With more than 100,000 volumes in its Scandinavian department library, the University of Minnesota's collection is recognized as the finest library of Scandinavian works in the United States, according to Andrew A. Stromberg, department head.

The university collection is the only one in this country which contains a complete record of proceedings of the governing bodies of Norway, Denmark and Sweden, Stromberg said.

"In the past, Scandinavian students have shown slight interest in the courses our department offered," Stromberg said. "They were too close to the immigration period of their parents. As they become more widely separated from that era they are taking an increasing interest in studying the culture and historical backgrounds of their origins."

Stromberg, who has headed the university's Scandinavian department for 30 years and under whose direction its library was developed, believes the fourth generation since the heavy immigration of Scandinavians will produce even greater interest in the courses and facilities available for study of those peoples.

Heat Stored Up by Earth Cooks Plants to Death

Minneapolis. — Temperatures reach 175 degrees a few inches beneath the earth's surface, it was revealed in the annual report of Dr. Raphael Zon, director of the Lakes states forest experiment station at University of Minnesota farm.

The information was obtained from thermometers buried in the surface soil last summer. The difference between the above-and-below temperatures was due to the earth's capacity for storing heat, Doctor Zon explained.

"Many plants do not die from lack of moisture during a drought, as is generally believed," he said. "They are simply cooked to death."

Once a person experiences the joy that is to be found in helpful service, all other rewards seem commonplace indeed. The happiest people on earth are those who have contributed something to the welfare of others. Try to do one good deed every day.

Cards Search for Another Medwick

Morristown, N. J., Aug. 17 (AP). —The St. Louis Cardinals have come back to New Jersey in search of another Duck Medwick—the boy from Carteret who made good.

Dispatching a posse of seven seasoned scouts, the Cards let it be known that a manhunt is on and it won't end until every potential Duck Medwick in this state has run the gamut of hyper-criticism from throwing arm to batting eye.

The original Ducky, a pitcher demoralized from way back, was "discovered" a little more than seven years ago, when, with a "few" blisk words, he brought his light out from under the bushel and paraded it before the cynical eyes of Charley "Pop" Klechner, the Cards veteran scout.

He was 17 then. At the end of three years he moved up to the Cardinals lineup—still under 21—and in 1934 he won a permanent berth, much to the embarrassment of several here-to-fore good pitchers.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE BRIEZE

New York, Aug. 17 (AP). —A smart lad up in the Bronx parlayed $10 on the Athletics in the recent Yankee series and made himself a cool $600. . . . New York newsreel audiences applaud Tommy Farr's picture. . . . Walter Hagen's pals say he is all set for a great golf comeback when he comes back from Australia or wherever he is. . . . You can laugh at the Cincinnati Reds all you like, but they may have a lot to say about who wins the National League pennant race. . . . Latest semi-official dope is that Bobby Riggs, the California youngster, can count himself in that No. 2 tennis spot—right behind Don Budge. . . . (Which is just what Bobby has been contending all along).

Marcel Thil, the French middleweight, is completely bald. . . . A western school has its eye on amateur old Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech (but doubts if it can lure him away). . . . Also more than one college is waiting Lawrence Spearman, now assistant coach at Little Davidson, whose Chester (S. C.) High teams lost only four games in nine years. . . . Harry Smith, veteran sports editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, is back from a jaunt to Europe and will stay here until after Louis and Farr do their stuff. . . . Farr was Jack Dempsey's luncheon guest yesterday. . . . He looks like a million dollars and talks that kind of fight.

There will be plenty doing in baseball circles this winter—more shakeups than you can shake a stick at. . . . Lots of baseball men smiled when General Manager Warren C. Giles denied that story the Cincinnati Reds would be made over. . . . Ho hum, Jack Dempsey is planning another white hope tournament. . . . Gosh! When the Browns canned Rogers Hornsby he was only 69 hits short of the 3,000 mark (which would have put him in the same bracket with Ty Cobb, 4,191; Tris Speaker, 3,515, and Honus Wagner, 3,420). . . . You won't be able to count the new fans you'll see in the National Professional Football League next season.

Old Bill McKechnie wasn't kidding last spring when he told this writer he'd show the major leagues a couple of nifty ancient recruits. . . . Fette and Turner are the answers. . . . In the last 24 hours Don Budge has had two brand new offers to turn pro. . . . Francis Hunter and your old pal, Mike Jacobs, were the bidders. . . . Budge says he'll give 'em an answer next month. . . . Bet you a bob he chucks 'em amateurs. . . . Wouldn't you for a guarantee of $40,000 per? . . . Well, that's what the guy got.

Mike Jacobs is a cutey, all right. . . . One of the provisions of his deal with Madison Square Garden was that the Garden wouldn't sue him for breaking its contract with Jimmy Braddock. . . . Charles W. Va. has as fighting style is concerned Andrew Roy, a promising welterweight, who has been cleaning up in that locality. . . . He's only 17, but is so tough they call him "Tarzan." . . . He's got a dead pan and shuffles into action the same way Louis does.

British Scribes Pick Joe Louis

London, Aug. 17 (AP). —There's a suspicion in Britain that maybe it's just as well that the future of the empire doesn't depend on Tommy Farr.

Which is to say that, if Joe Louis mangles him August 26, the commonwealth will be braced for the shock.

If it isn't braced, it won't be the fault of the British sports writers. They have spent much time and many shillings looking at the pictures of the Louis-Jim Braddock fight, and though generally inclined to let their patriotism get in the way of their judgment in decisions of this kind, they are picking Louis.

Officially, there is a definite tendency to minimize the importance of the bout, but even the past record of British heavyweight contenders can't discourage the average British boxing fan.

The British Board of Boxing control does not recognize Louis as champion, so that Tommy would be just the American champion here were he to beat Louis.

There's no doubt, however, that he would be the popular champion. Special boats are carrying many British fans to New York for the bout and even London's restaurants are carrying cabled stories of Tommy's training activities on the backs of their menus.

WANTS WEIGHT RULES FOR JOCKEYS ALTERED.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP). —One of the nation's leading trainers predicted today a sear of American jockeys, if steps were not taken immediately to alter the apprentice weight rules.

Preston M. Burch, president of the American Trainers' Association, asked the National Association of State Racing Commissioners yesterday to increase apprentice weight allowances on all tracks.

"In this way," Burch said, "we can hope to cope with the ever increasing problem of the lack of truly great riders on American race tracks."

Budge Threatens Riggs' Chances

Newport, R. I., Aug. 17 (AP). —The belated arrival of Don Budge, America's Davis Cup hero, threatened today to steal the Newport Casino's tennis spotlight from Bobby Riggs, the 19-year-old California youngster who dominated the eastern turf season in Budge's absence abroad.

Riggs, winner of the last three grass classics, probably will work his way through to a final match against Budge, who has not engaged in singles competition since his successful Davis Cup play.

Budge was due to get started yesterday against young Henry Daniels of New York, but he requested a 24-hour postponement of the second-round match.

During the opening play, six of the nine-strong delegation and two of this country's first ten ranking players, Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Art Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., were eliminated.

Only two of the remaining three Englishmen were in action. Charles E. Hare gained the third round by overwhelming Casper Nannes, the Brooklyn veteran, without the loss of a game, and F. M. P. Knott kept pace by defeating Larry Lutkins of Rye, N. Y., 6-2, 6-2.

The most surprising of the six British setbacks was the first round 7-7, 6-3 triumph of William T. Tilden, 3rd, of Philadelphia, namesake-nephew of the famous Big Bill, registered over Clarence M. Jones, who was seeded fifth and last on the foreign list.

All of the domestic seeded players, except Budge and his Davis Cup teammate, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, have made their starts and Mangin was the only casualty on the eight star list. That veteran lost in the second round to Fumitru Nakano, the steady Japanese, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

ERROR ADDS VALUE TO FRENCH STAMP

Issue to Be Destroyed, but Some Will Escape.

Paris, France. — Philatelists will have another minor variation, which makes all the difference between an ordinary stamp and a rarity, to hunt if any of the several thousand original version Descartes stamps escape from the incinerator of the French postoffice.

Although the issue is to be destroyed because of an imperfection, it is virtually a certainty that some will slip into collections, for France as a nation is avid about postage stamps, and someone in the printing office has acquired samples of the new stamps that will never go into circulation.

The stamp, issued in celebration of the 300th anniversary of the appearance of Rene Descartes, "Discourse on Method," bears his picture surrounded by books, on one of which can be read the title "Discours sur la Methode." Unfortunately, by general agreement, Descartes' book is known in academic circles as "Discours de la Methode." Hence a 90-centime red stamp bearing Descartes' picture, with the "sur," will identify the issue.

The curious thing about the suppression of the stamp, of which several thousand examples already exist, is that there is no evidence that Descartes wrote "de"—or for that matter, that he wrote "sur"—or that he gave his book a title at all in those days such things as titles were likely to be left to the printer. Both mean the same, but "de" has a rather more archaic flavor.

Yet on the famous portrait of Descartes by Franz Hals, the title appears as "Discours sur la Methode." In the first edition of Lanson's "History of French Literature" it is "sur." In Larousse it is "de."

To the French postoffice, even a single letter is a matter of concern, to say nothing of two or three of them. So despite plenty of authority for "sur," the philatelists, with luck, another rare stamp.

Mambas, Dreaded Snake "Most dreaded snake in Africa" is how naturalists describe the mambas. Even a slight wound from the fangs generally means death.

The black mamba surpasses the green in size, often growing to 12 feet. Mambas are so irritable and nervous, they can be kept in captivity only in separate cages. Yet they can be tamed. They drop from the limbs or glide swiftly from bushes to attack humans. Their speed permits no escape.

Quail Stocking Unsatisfactory In 23 Counties

Albany, Aug. 15 —Bobwhite quail have failed to increase in numbers sufficient to justify further experimental stocking in 23 New York State counties, it was revealed today by Litwog Osborne, conservation commissioner.

The policy was determined after completion of the latest in a series of intensive surveys conducted by the Conservation Department, Bureau of Game, during which field investigators traveled 4,000 miles from one end of the state to the other and interviewed, records show, thousands of sportsmen. Allocations of pheasants will be increased proportionately in the affected counties, according to the commissioner's plans.

The quail problem, pages from the Conservation Department's research point out, harks back to the day when Governor Clinton started the first boat to traverse the length of the Erie Canal in 1825.

"On that memorable day," Commissioner Osborne explained, "Governor Clinton announced that shipping charges were solved and cheap grain was in the offing for New York's consumers. He was right, so right that before long the state's native grain crop was cut as though some Gargantuan scythe had been drawn across its farm-lands."

The quail, he said, had been moved from the land into which the pioneer's plow had beckoned them. Some stayed and starved. Others apparently were unable to withstand winter's icy blast.

Several years ago the Conservation Department decided to experiment with quail to see whether conditions had changed. The attempt was made to reintroduce quail in approximately 40 counties in which these feathered bombshells were abundant.

Sportsmen were called into the picture and, through their county federations and other interested groups, small experimental allotments of quail were liberated in carefully chosen test areas through each participating county. Those quail were watched. Surveys were made. The records revealed that in a few counties the experiment was a failure. But, Mr. Osborne asserted, no harm was done since only a small amount of the sportsmen's money was used, in contrast to the old method whereby large quantities of game were released more or less haphazardly in the hope some might survive.

The 23 counties scratched from the survey just completed include Albany, Allegany, Cayuga, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Genesee, Greene, Livingston, Wyoming, Montgomery, Ontario, Orange, Oswego, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schoenectady, Schenectady, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Wayne and Yates.

Certain areas in Broome, Oneida and Orleans counties will remain on the experimental list two more years when further survey will be made. The quail experiment is being continued in Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Niagara, Seneca, Tompkins, Chemung, Dutchess, Putnam, Ulster, Rockland and the Long Island counties where reintroduction has proved particularly successful.

Adirondack Amateurs Back at Auditorium To Satisfy Fight Fans

Severino and Bileski To Box New Yorkers in Star Bout; Thomas-Thompson Again.

Friday night's boxing card at the municipal auditorium will bring to the fight fans a stock of old favorites.

Mario Severino, sensation Schenectady schoolboy featherweight, tops the bill, paired with Joe Rovierto, New York Golden Gloves.

The semi-final will bring back Johnny Bileski, Scotia's Pounding Pole, in a five rounder with Leo Owens, one of the best amateur heavyweights in New York.

The rest of the bill also contains the names of boxing stars well known to local patrons of the manly art, including Jimmy Thomas and Frankie Thompson, the two upstarts who four weeks ago fought one of the most sensational battles ever recorded in local ring history.

Thomas, Albany's belting welterweight, got up off the floor to win. Thompson hit the deck too during the five round slugfest. The return of these two ring gladiators should be one reason for a packed house Friday.

Last week, the card for the Mayor's Industrial Committee brought a complete lineup of new faces to the Broadway ring, and, although the boxers came to Kingston with top-notch ratings, the patrons were not as well pleased as on previous occasions when their favorites boxed.

Give us our own boys from the Adirondack division of the A. A. U. seemed to be consensus, so they will see them in action this week.

Give us our own boys from the Adirondack Division of the A. A. U. seemed to be the consensus of the fans, so this week the favorites will be back into action. However, in order to give the upstarts the proper sort of competition without pitting them against old rivals, New York boys will box them.

The trio of Metropolitan amateurs coming here consists of Joe Rovierto, Pete Marco and Leo Owens, all highly rated pugilists. Mario Severino's return to the Broadway Punch Bowl probably will be one of the chief reasons for packing in a good house. He is especially popular with the ladies.

Johnny Bileski has many followers here, too, and with him on the bill, the boxoffice should be helped considerably. The complete card:

Main Bout, 5 Rounds Mario Severino, Schenectady vs. Joe Rovierto, featherweights.

Semi-Final, 5 Rounds Johnny Bileski, Scotia vs. Leo Owens, New York, heavyweights.

Special Fights Jimmy Thomas, Albany vs. Frankie Thompson, Schenectady, welterweights.

Joe DeMeo, Schenectady vs. Pete Marco, New York, welterweights.

Preliminaries Jerry Jackson, Kingston vs. Tony Miller, Hudson.

Ernie Swift, Balston Lake, vs. Davy Hopp, Kingston.

Irv Van Keek, Kingston vs. Johnny Pamato, Albany.

CHANGES ARE MADE AT MOUNT VERNON

Alterations Result of Research Among Records.

Washington, D. C. — Mount Vernon, home of George Washington near the national capital, has a new superintendent, the fourth since the Mount Vernon Ladies' association took over the care and upkeep of the famous shrine in 1858. Following the recent death of Colonel Harrison M. Dodge, the Ladies' association elected Charles Cecil Wall, former assistant superintendent, to take charge.

"Numerous changes and restorations have taken place at Mount Vernon in recent years," says the National Geographic society.

"Many of the alterations, the new superintendent points out were made as a result of extensive research work among records, letters and other documents found both in this country and abroad. As a result the Mansion House and its adjacent buildings and gardens are today more nearly as they were in Washington's time than when the Ladies' association took over the neglected estate. This organization, founded 79 years ago, by Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham of South Carolina, is chartered by the state of Virginia. Its officers serve without pay.

"Because the vast proportion of Mt. Vernon's thousands of annual visitors come by motor car, the federal government and the state of Virginia have each constructed trunk highways to take care of the heavy tourist traffic.

Wall Protects Estate.
"Facing the circular plaza, but outside the gates, are lunch rooms, and souvenir shops, housed in buildings whose colonial architecture harmonizes with the rest of the estate. There is also an outdoor cafe. Parking spaces for cars and busses are partially concealed by shrubbery and trees.

"A high brick wall, which was not a feature of the plantation in Washington's day, but was erected to protect it today, encircles almost the entire estate.

"Perhaps the most conspicuous change in the Mansion House itself is the removal of the white railing above the roof of the portico on the east, or Potomac, front. Study of several ancient drawings and paintings of the mansion, some of which have only recently come to light, revealed that the railing must not have been a feature of the house during Washington's lifetime. Consequently it has been taken down.

"Another restoration, of particular interest to landscape architects, is the kitchen garden along the south side of the bowling green. This sloping plot of land was laid out by Washington in terrace style, an interesting example of Eighteenth century design. Growing in the garden now are old herbs, vegetables and fruits mentioned in Washington's farm accounts.

"The old brick barn has a new roof, a shingling job completed this spring.

Relics Returned.
"Visitors may now peek into the tiny building at the west end of the flower garden believed to have been used by the Curtis children and their tutor as a school house. This red-roofed octagonal structure was, until recently, used as a tool house.

"Some authentic relics recently returned to the estate for display in the mansion or in the small museum near the spinning house are: Mrs. Washington's French writing desk, a knee-hole dressing table, a stool with Mrs. Washington's initials on it, the original bronze cannon used by George Washington to salute vessels sailing up the Potomac, and a quaint lacquer mirror.

"Entirely concealed from visitors' eyes is one of the most remarkable bits of restoration work undertaken in connection with the preservation of the mansion. Some time ago it was discovered that the heavy wooden beams supporting the roof and ceiling above the banquet hall were showing signs of sagging. From a narrow third floor trapdoor, workmen were able to brace the ancient timbers with iron plates and heavy bolts, so that they now are as strong as new. So carefully did they do their work that the brittle plaster of the wide ceiling below was not damaged in the least.

"Mount Vernon now is open every day in the year, but only in recent years has it been open on Sundays."

HOMELY LIGHT CAST ON TITANS OF PEN

Rare Papers Show Human Side of Great Writers.

Missoula, Mont. — The last will and testament of Jonathan Swift, author of "Gulliver's Travels," 219 years after it was signed and executed has found its way to Montana.

The document, now worth far more than the eccentric writer's itemized fortune, is a part of a literary collection owned by H. W. Whicker, member of the Montana State university faculty.

In addition to Swift's will, Whicker's collection includes an original document by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, in her own handwriting. The collection also contains original manuscripts and letters of Thomas De Quincey, Robert Browning, Thomas Gray, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, Thomas Carlyle and others.

Only previous owners of the collection knew that the originals were in existence. Facts concerning most of them have never been published heretofore.

Manuscripts Were Gift.

Whicker, a well-known northwest author, is not, however, a collector. The manuscripts were given to him.

"University students are using the manuscripts, not for scholarly purposes," Whicker said, "but for the rich personal atmosphere most of them have, and for the incentive they may give the students through personal feeling. The manuscripts are also being studied because they thrust aside the years and show those whom we too often worship as geniuses as being vitally human, concerned with the same human problems with which we are concerned, dogged by the same human weaknesses with which we are dogged."

Swift's will is dated September 8, 1718, and it lists bonds and mortgages valued at 1,514 pounds. Of this sum 200 pounds was bequeathed for a building at Nelytown and the balance to his family. While the paper is yellow and fragile with age, the document is still legible.

Original Poe Manuscript.

Another unit of Whicker's collection is a page from one of Edgar Allan Poe's original manuscripts on literary criticism. It is written in his own handwriting. The page is pasted together similar to editorial copy for newspapers or magazines.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge's letter to his publisher relative to a certain famous "Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner" is also included in the group. Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poem, "Life," bears her initials besides her own penciled revisions. The work was originally published under the title, "Human Life's Problems." A comparison with the poem as it is published today shows only two of the stanzas are not the same as the original.

Highway Is Paved With Gold Ore of Low Grade

San Diego, Calif. — A highway paved with gold ore takes motorists from Ramona to Julian, once a colorful mining town in San Diego county, Calif., according to Charles H. Reed, secretary of the county bureau of mines.

Although few motorists who travel the 11 mile strip of highway realize the value of the road, Reed said it was constructed of gravel and ore with an average gold content of 7 a ton.

He said the gravel came from a quarry on the escarpment of a nearby mountain, but the gold content was not sufficient to warrant sending it to a smelter. Contractors estimated that at least $2,000 worth of gold is imbedded in the highway leading to the old Julian gold mining district.

While Julian did not gain the fame acquired by some mining towns, its history is a picturesque one.

Horace Bailey, owner of the first stage line out of Julian, recalled the difficulties he encountered in operating the line.

"One grade was so steep," he said, "that I had to tell my drivers to make an announcement to the passengers:

"First class passengers keep your seats. Second class passengers get out and walk. Third class passengers get out and push."

Woman Finds Profit in Raising Snails for Sale

Kearney, Neb. — An experiment begun five years ago provides Mrs. A. Munn with a comfortable living. She raises snails and has the largest output in Nebraska.

Wholesale houses and private and public aquariums from coast to coast are supplied with snails by Mrs. Munn. Even Florida, which is supposed to have plenty of snails, receives her product.

Mrs. Munn specializes in the large red snails because they attract more attention by their vivid color. They grow to be as large around as a half dollar, but they are shipped when tiny, just beginning their growth.

Mrs. Munn's industry is contained in large glass aquariums and wooden tubs. The snails are like fish in that they spawn and must not be disturbed during hatching season.

Long Beach Earth Shocks
Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 17 (AP) — Two earth shocks were felt here last night, but police reported no damage. The first was at 12:02 a. m. E. S. T., and the second at 2:50 a. m. E. S. T.

Of all the recent ersatz foods in Germany, we'd say "fish wurst" is the worst.

Directoire Hats

Here is a new fall hat which reflects the fashion influence of the early nineteenth century Directoire period. Lily Dacie makes it of black antelope. It fits very close to the head and rises to a high line. A buckle of black patent leather finishes it.

For right now the markets are bursting with the plump two-year-old hens that give you your dollar's worth of delicious chicken.

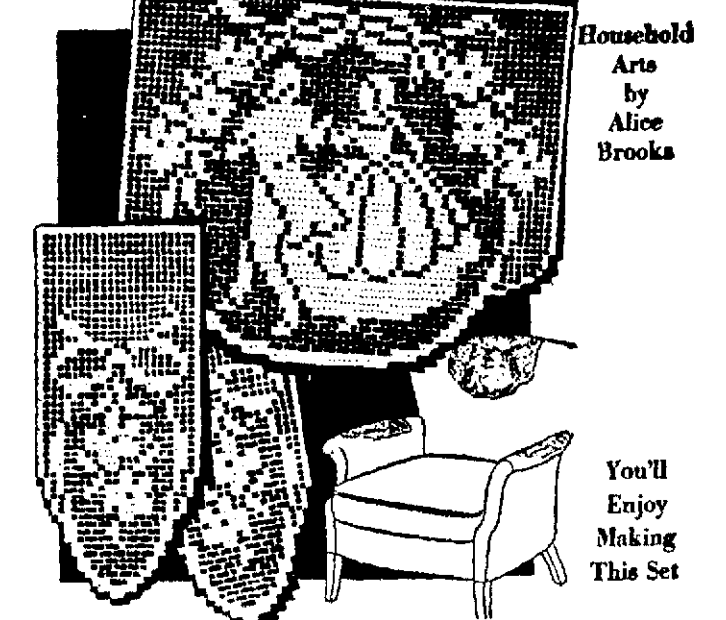

To can baked chicken you dress the birds just as you would for cooking. Simmer whole in a covered pan with a little water until the chicken's tender enough to permit you to remove the bones easily. Cool, discard the skin and cut the meat into pieces, leaving the drumsticks and second joints intact.

Then pack into sterilized containers, leaving room for liquid. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt for each pint and fill with a boiling broth you've made from bones and trimmings.

Next comes the processing in the steam pressure cooker and lo! the job's done.

Then how about a sun-baked succotash for January? Make a

Fine Showmanship At Farm Picnic

Much more interest is being exhibited than ever before in the combined county fair and farm picnic to be held at Forsyth Park in Kingston on Wednesday, August 25. More entries than usual have been received and the people of Ulster county will have the opportunity of witnessing some fine showmanship, according to Albert Kurdt, chairman of the general committee, there seems to be a rejuvenation of interest.

The entries indicate that more horses than ever before will be on display. Other departments will also be well represented. Miss Grace Van B. Roberts, owner of Ulsterdorp Farms at Highland, has entered over 20 of her fine Jersey cattle.

Special plans are being made to handle the large crowd. The committee has obtained the cooperation of the city police department, state troopers and boy scouts. Parking arrangements are being made for about 1,000 cars.

FALLING STONES HALT STORM KING TRAFFIC

Three medium size boulders crashed down from the heights above the Storm King highway Saturday evening and delayed traffic on the scenic route for over an hour.

The accident occurred about two miles below the village of Cornwall, and near Mountain police, highway officials and volunteers worked for the better part of an hour to clear the highway.

Few wild animals die of old age, in spite of their freedom from the ills of civilization. Food shortage, accidental injuries, diseases, and natural enemies are the principal causes of death in the wild, says the United States Biological Survey.

Rats Protected at Mine; Give Warning of Danger

Zortman, Mont. — Under strict orders from the management, the employees in the mines near this small north central Montana mining community protect the hundreds of rats that scurry from tunnel to tunnel and regard them as their friends.

The rodents have saved many miners from injury and possible death because of their uncanny sense to detect caverns.

Due to the sandy nature of the mine formations, caverns are common. The rats are able to determine the slipping earth long before miners are aware of the movement.

Wasting no time, the rodents run for safety, thus spreading the alarm. No dead or even crippled rat has ever been found after a cavern has been cleared.

The village of Cheddar, Eng., is noted for its cheese.

Two 1st Throwouts For The Mayor This Week

Mayor Conrad J. Heiseleman will be on deck for the inaugural of two important sports events this week at the Athletic Field.

This evening at 6:10, Kingston's first citizen will throw out the first ball of the Little World Series between the Grunwald Home Leaders and Berardi A. C. for the City League pennant.

Wednesday at 6:30 Mayor Heiseleman will start the championship race between Ed Shultis' Coolers and Artie Kaplan's Old Catskill Appleknockers for the softball title of the city.

Softball Series Begins Wednesday

Wednesday night, the Coolers and Appleknockers begin their softball series for the championship of the city at the Athletic Field.

Starting time of the game is 6:30, and action galore is looked for from the first ball thrown by Mayor Conrad J. Heiseleman until the last out is made.

The series, originally scheduled for last week, but postponed, is down for five games, the team winning three getting the championship.

The Appleknockers won the right to enter the series by copying the first half of the City Softball League, and the Coolers got into the pennant race by winning the second half.

Ben Toffel sensational speed ball artist will pitch for the Appleknockers. Toffel is considered the ace of softball twirlers in this vicinity. He has a no hit, no run game to his credit. "Gabby" Plough will catch.

Forris Williams will pitch for the Icecream with Don Kelly or Johnny Houghtaling as his battery mate.

Both clubs are confident, which means there should be plenty of fireworks.

COUNTY HORSESHOE PITCHING CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Ulster County horseshoe pitching championships will be held on August 25 in connection with the combined county fair and farm picnic at Forsyth Park in Kingston. Frank DuFlon will have full charge of the contest.

All amateur horseshoe pitchers are eligible to compete. Those interested in competing should see Mr. DuFlon at Forsyth Park before noon on the day of the contest.

According to Mr. DuFlon, veteran barnyard golfer, the county contest will undoubtedly produce a strong competitor for state honors. The winner of the county competition will receive a free trip to the State Fair, early in September, to take part in the state championships.

Kingston Firemen Lose to Newburgh

Even though Mayor Conrad J. Heiseleman was there to cheer for them, the softball players of the Kingston Fire Department lost to Newburgh at the Hilly City, Monday evening.

Final score of the tilt was 12-11 in favor of the home boys, who took advantage of all the breaks and of errors committed behind the pitching of Ben Toffel, Kingston's No. 1 hurler, who was with the firemen.

"Well it's only our first experience," said President Wright Maines of the Kingston firemen after the game. "We'll show those Fire Eaters from Newburgh a thing or two when they come to our diamond Tuesday, September 21."

From now until the date of the contest, the Kingston fire ladders intend to do a lot of training.

Proceeds of the Kingston game will go toward the pension fund of the department upon which there is a heavy drain due to the accidents which proved fatal to two firemen last spring, and because of retirements.

The fireman's association will appreciate the cooperation of the public in patronizing the game.

Excelsior to Plan For Ossining Trip

All members of Excelsior Hose Company intending to go to Ossining Labor Day for the fireman's celebration are urged to attend the meeting in the fire house this evening to make reservations.

In Ossining, Excelsiors will be the guests of Independent Hose Company, which extended the invitation a long time ago. Excelsiors also had an invitation to go to Tivoli Labor Day, but declined it in favor of the downriver trip.

A number of firemen not belonging to Excelsior Hose intend to make the trip also, and they are asked to make reservations by notifying the officers of Excelsior Company immediately.

There will be fresh home cooked chicken with gravy and plenty of other good things to eat. Also homemade ice cream and cake. There will be a table of fancy articles and a surprise for the children.

FIGHTS BLACK NOMINATION

Sen. Edward R. Burke (D-Nev) (left) opposed bitterly in the Senate judiciary committee sending to the Senate floor the nomination of Sen. ## Police Seek Man Accused of Fleeing Scene of Accident

Stanley J. Vlassis of Brooklyn was taken to the Kingston Hospital this noon for injuries which he said he sustained when he was knocked down by an auto driven by Donald Foley of South Kortright at the intersection of East Chester street and Flatbush avenue. Vlassis has sworn out a warrant here charging Foley with leaving the scene of an accident.

According to Vlassis story as related to the police he was driving over East Chester street toward Broadway when the signal light at the intersection of East Chester street and Flatbush avenue flashed red and he applied the brakes and halted his car. As he did so he claims the car driven by Foley crashed into the rear of his car.

Vlassis said he stepped out of his car to approach the Foley car to ascertain the name of the driver and the license number when he said Foley started his car and knocked him down and ran over his leg.

Vlassis said that Foley then drove on toward Broadway. Later Foley was caught by state troopers at Highland, where he told them he had furnished Mrs. Vlassis with all information and that the owner of the car carried insurance. He was chauffeur for a family named Andrews who were riding in the car. The Andrews were on their way, they said, to visit President Roosevelt at Hyde Park. When the state troopers were told by Foley that he had furnished all the information necessary to the driver of the other car in the accident he was allowed to proceed.

When the warrant for Foley was turned over to the local police department Foley had gotten away and resumed his interrupted journey. The police are still seeking him.

TO SPEAK AT ROTARY ON SOCIAL SECURITY

It was announced today by A. L. Harder, chairman of the Rotary Program Committee, that the guest speaker at this week's meeting of the Rotary Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel would be John Form, manager of the Social Security Board at Kingston.

Mr. Form will speak on the nine different laws of the Social Security Act and, in addition, will answer questions.

House Takes Step Toward Windup

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—The House took another stride toward adjournment today by adopting a resolution to dispend some of its rules for the remainder of the session.

The next order of business was passage of the third—and final—deficiency bill. Disposal of that appropriation measure will leave on the House program only the Wagner housing legislation, among major bills leaders expect to pass.

The House's tape-cutting resolution would:

Permit dispensing with the morning prayer and reading of the Journal, allow a motion at any time to suspend the rules and pass a bill by a two-thirds vote, authorize day to day recesses instead of adjournments, let the rules committee bring in rules and obtain their approval the same day by a majority vote.

SPIDERS AND SNAKE BATTLE NO LONGER.

Danville, N. Y., Aug. 17 (AP)—The battle of the spiders and the snake was ended today with the reptile's death and at least three people hoped they had heard the last of the incident.

Robert J. Holden, in whose cellar at Ossian, the small grass snake became entangled in a spider web several days ago, killed it yesterday. Spinning web to offset the snake's struggles to free itself, the spiders by that time had raised it four feet from the floor and were well on the way to victory.

Holden and his wife, who said they had received 150 requests that they free the snake, expressed hope its death would end the matter.

Meantime Walter Mason, of Hornell, Steuben County Humane Society officer, said "the case is closed as far as I am concerned." Holden said he would embalm the reptile.

The first motion picture with sound was shown in 1926.
